STUDENT LIFE

Open school parties brighten academic schedule.

Starting off the year to a new beat, Student Council sponsored an open school party. Providing the music was Willy Williams and the Souled-Out Revue, a Chicago originated rock-group. The dance was held in the courtyard, and, the crowd was sizeable and enthusiastic. The group performed music ranging from Ike and Tina Turner to the Beatles.

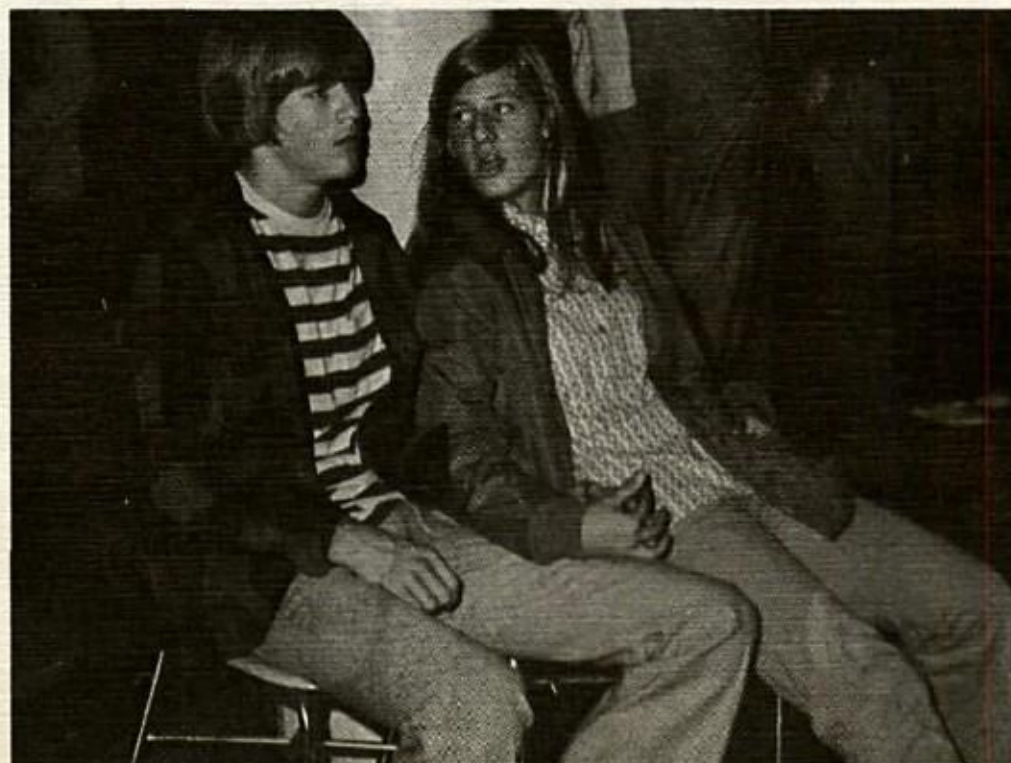

This success inspired a second dance which was held the day before Halloween. Students viewed movies that were shown in the gym, while others danced to the music of Hard-Ax.

Boardman Veazie presents award to coach Dickinson

Coach Dickinson is honored after 31 years of service

HT's football field was named in honor of Coach Harvey Dickinson this year at a football game October 2. A crowd of 6,000, including Dr. Adolphsen, the Boosters Club, the school board, faculty, and students, honored Coach Dickinson at half-time ceremonies. The Booster Club presented him with a plaque, and the PomPon girls and the Red Devil marching band gave a musical tribute to Coach Dickinson representing his 31 years of service as instructor, coach, and Athletic director. At the conclusion of the ceremony Coach Dickinson led the band in the "Alma Mater". The football team finished a perfect 90-degree day with a 14-12 victory over the LT lions. Coach Dickinson was presented with the game ball.

Songs of the Sixties are back for HT's Homecoming

Grades slipped and sleep was lost during a wild week of float construction to the theme "Songs of the Sixties." Homecoming weekend activities began Friday afternoon with a pep rally during which Vera Vagen was crowned this year's queen. Kathy Barton and Sandy Frye were selected as first and second attendants respectively. Other members of the queen's court were: Debbie Gilbert, Patsy Bates, Dana Kras, and Karen Tichy.

Early Saturday morning the parade entrants, including seven hastily-finished floats, assembled in HT's parking lot before their annual trek through the Hinsdale business district. For the second consecutive year, the spirited class of '73 took first place in float competition with their theme "Something's Burning." "A Little Bit of Sole" was the senior's contribution, which earned them second place. The freshmen came in third and sophomores fourth. Scoring an upset over Guard, band members literally pulled their float to first place in the organizational division. Latin club placed third. Trailing behind clunked the traditional senior men's float.

The Big Red Machine rolled over the RB Bulldogs with a 49-0 triumph in the varsity game and the Imps preceded with a 24-6 victory.

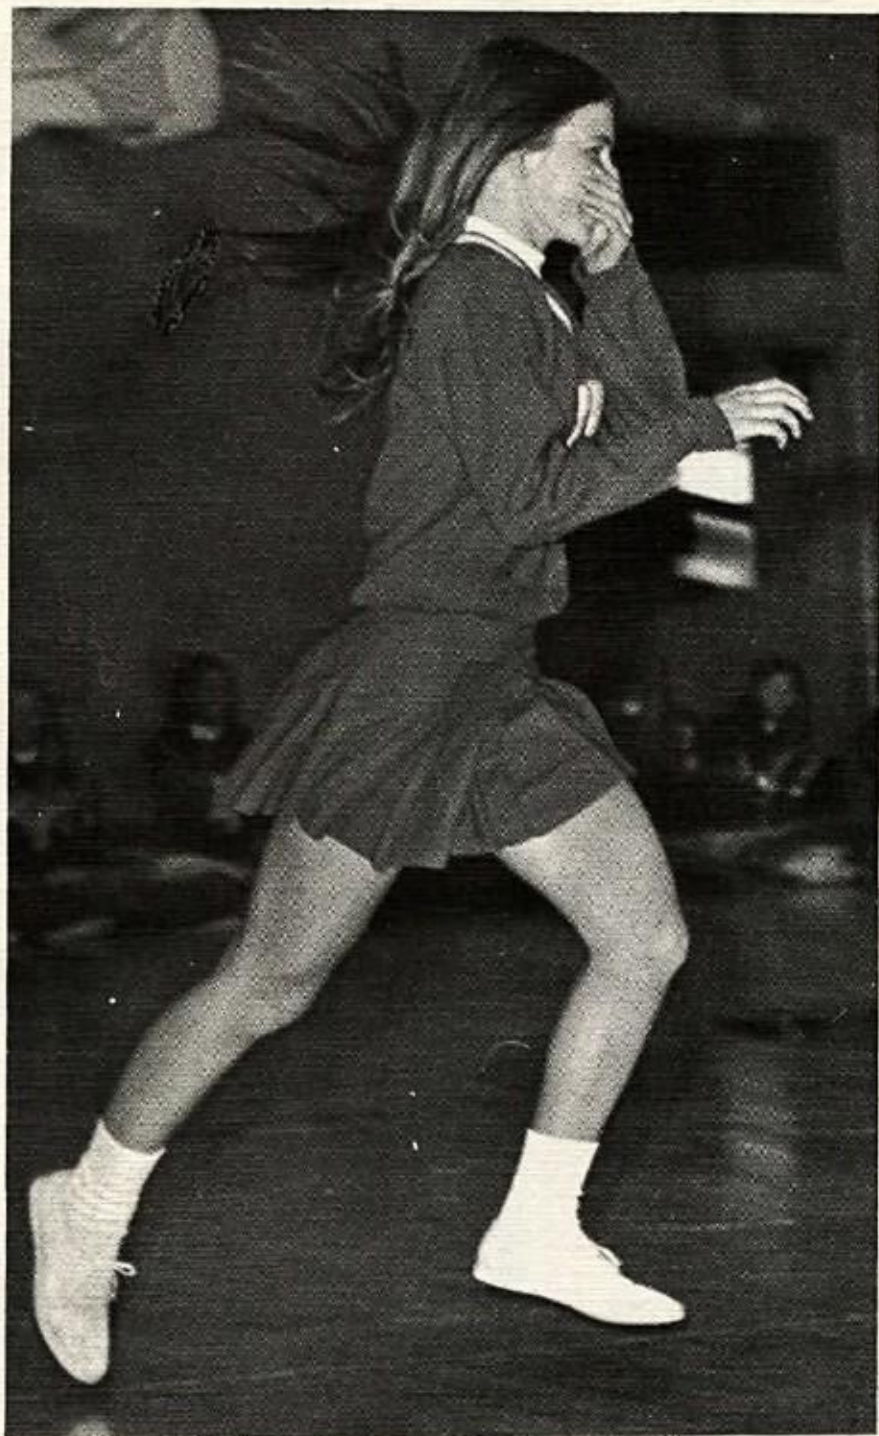

HT's cafeteria was the scene of the Saturday night Homecoming dance, "Reflections." The evening was highlighted by the coronation of the queen.

The senior girls nominated for Homecoming queen were: Sue Beutel, Debbie Gilbert, Heather Sayers, Meta Hoenecke, Laura Vaughan, Beth Sparks, Sarah Baschen, Skye Creed, Sandy Frye, Kathy Barton, Karen Tichy, Patsy Bates, Dana Kras, and Vera Vagen.

This year's assemblies focus on student talents

This year, as usual, assemblies provided an extra challenge for freshmen, who had to learn still another schedule. The majority of assembly programs involved HT students and their talents. A new tradition was begun with the Performing Arts Show produced by John Chism and Bob Mortimer, social chairmen. The show included a wide spectrum of music — from classical to rock. Other student oriented assemblies were the customary band, chorus, and orchestra programs.

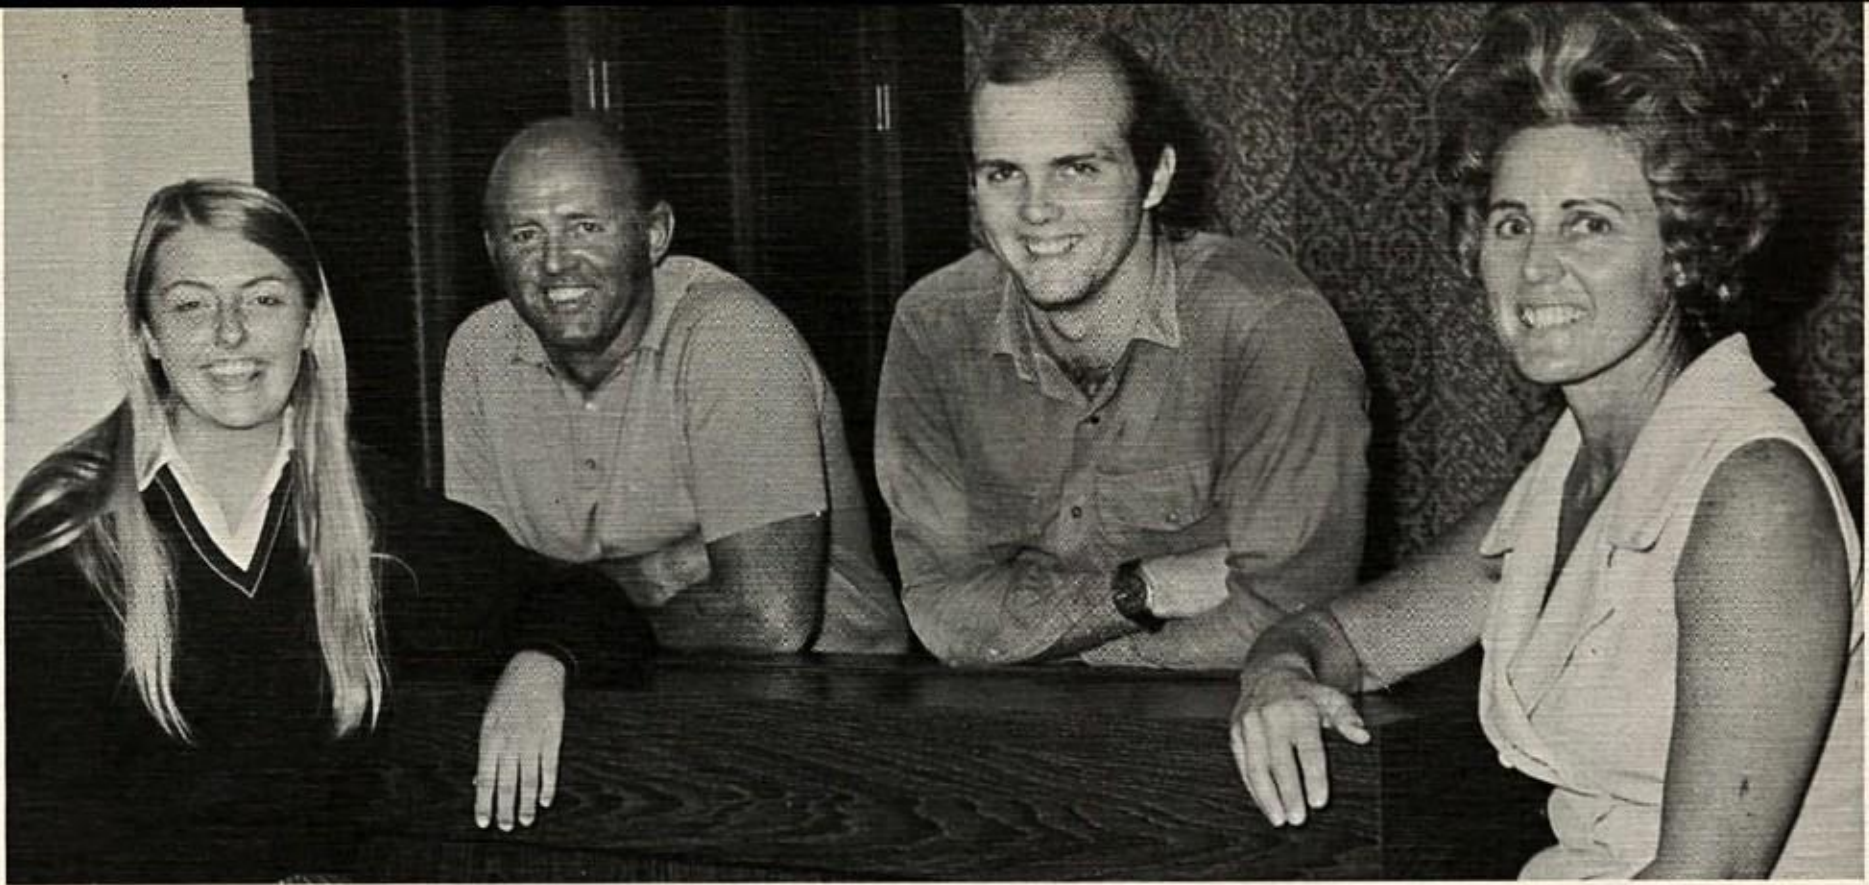

A musical theme was continued with a sound assembly featuring Kris Eric Stevens. The highlight of the show was his demonstration of how a hit record is made.

Exchange students spoke on their experiences abroad during the AFS programs. A new policy this year was optional assembly attendance.

Life abroad is a learning experience for students

Upon his return home a foreign exchange student is always questioned about his stay abroad. In the following paragraphs Nancy Lewis, last year's Hawaiian exchange student gave her impressions:

"Hawaii wasn't quite like a long vacation of sunshine and good times. The hardships were there along with the fun. One problem I gained much from was that of others judging me on first impressions. I found that of all the people I could be, it was hardest to be me. The kids at school expected me to act a certain way and for awhile I guess I did. But I was very uncomfortable with myself and so I began to act how I felt. I became a more natural me."

Nancy Allen, who spent last year on the Gold Coast of Australia, was back at HT for her senior year. She was a Rotary Exchange student and spent her time abroad with the Brough family. Unlike HT's curriculum, Nancy's Australian school "placed much more emphasis on factual knowledge than on interpretation. Generally Nancy found the Aussies very receptive to her, and she realized that they were the hardest part to leave behind. Looking back on her year abroad, she felt that the experience was "terrific for learning, growing, and having a great time."

Jill Johnson spent her summer living in Pas-des-Lanciers, France. Buildings played an important part in Jill's impressions of the country, especially the numerous churches. Jill visited Paris, Belgium, Holland, Monaco, and vacationed in a small Massis Central Village.

Hawaiian exchange student brings warmth to HT

Wendy Roylo spent the year 4000 miles away from her home in Hawaii. Accustomed to a warm, even climate, she found the extremes in temperature here in Hinsdale difficult to get used to.

Generally, it was a period of change for Wendy. "Everyone here is always rushing around — back home life is more leisurely." "Also we don't have any semester exams — lots of terms papers and projects though." Living with the Lehner family of eight was a switch from her family of five.

Wendy contributed a hula dance to the year's Variety Show. It was an act that held the attention of everyone in the audience.

Snowflakes are a new experience for Marilena

Marilena Caprioli, an AFS student from Bari, Italy, spent the year with the James A. Shutes of Clarendon Hills. She found many things to adjust to, including a five-day school week and American eating habits. (In Italy, students attend school six days a week, and the main meal of the day is at 2:00.) Contrary to the stereotype, Marilena doesn't like opera, wine, or spices — she says that Italian food isn't spicy, at least in Italy.

During the year she participated in many activities, including Concert Choir, Girls' Choir, and Candy-stripping. She especially liked American sports, and American spirit — "In our schools we have nothing like this." One of the most exciting things for Marilena was snow and winter sports — in Bari the temperature rarely goes below freezing. All in all, it was an American year with pasta on top for Marilena.

Brazilian exchange student, Ana Alves, and her American family.

Ana loves everything about life in United States

Ana Alves, a Brazilian exchange student, spent her school year in Hinsdale. One of her major reasons for coming was to learn the English language. She felt that this could not be accomplished in a classroom situation. What did she like about the United States? "Everything!" Ana loved American people. During her first weeks here, she didn't find people outgoing, but soon discovered that "if you don't go and talk with people, they won't talk with you."

Ana didn't want to go back to Brazil, and planned to return here in the future. For her, the United States was like being home.

HT lands nine on West Suburban conference team

This year was the first year the Red Devils won a conference championship under the direction of Head Coach Gene Strode. The accomplishment was marred by a loss to Downers Grove North in the last game of the season. The loss was the first one in 21 years of competition with the Trojans and forced Hinsdale into a co-championship with Glenbard West. The Devils had beaten the Hilltoppers of Glenbard earlier in the season.

Another first under the direction of Coach Strode was the election of tri-captains. They were Jeff Kotteman, Jim Flynn, and Bob Hardig. All three ended up being all-conference players. Other all-conference selections from Hinsdale were John Leding, Brian Hansen, Bill Lipscomb, and juniors Dave Corcoran and John Hibben. Senior Pete Bylsma received all-conference and all-state recognition.

The Devils started the season on a sour note with a loss to Evanston in which they gave up 45 points. The game was marked by an outstanding performance by Pete Bylsma who broke numerous pass receiving records on that day.

Harriers beat Proviso West, look forward to big year

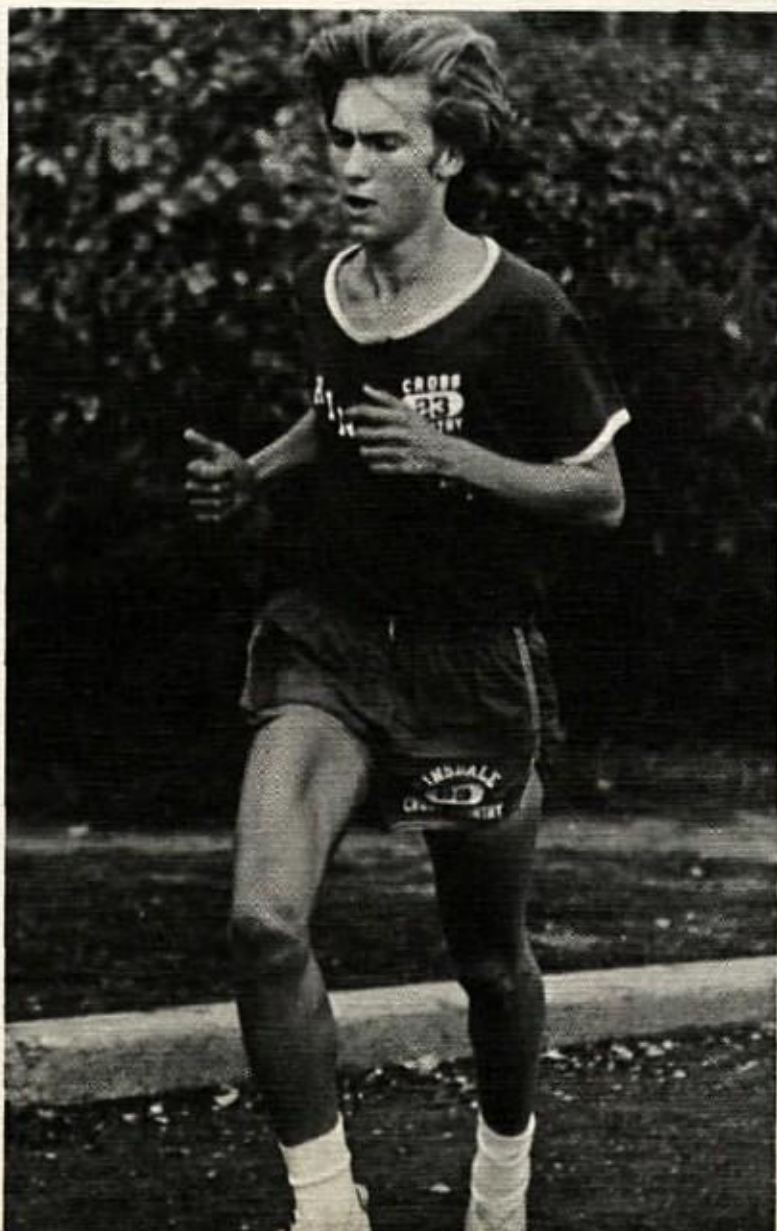

The Red Devil Harriers took a few more steps toward the top in 1971 as a result of a larger, enthusiastic squad and the new Hinsdale Running Organization's summer program. The program encouraged members of the team to attain mileage during the summer as well as further their interests in long-distance running. Todd Matocha, Steve Bratton, and Conrad Truedson ran well over 1000 miles with the rest of the team averaging 500 miles for the summer.

The Varsity Squad won more meets in 1971 than the past six years combined and succeeded in moving up a place in the West Suburban Conference. They finished with an overall 4-7 record and tied for sixth place. Highlighting the season were the victories over Downers Grove North and Proviso West. The Devils took the top five places against the Trojans, the first white-wash chalked up for at least a decade.

This year's C.C. team was the largest in the last six years. The frosh squad's depth of 30 runners enabled them to place first at the Lockport Freshman Invitational.

Johnson guides team to conference championship

Hinsdale bench looks confident as Devils win another one.

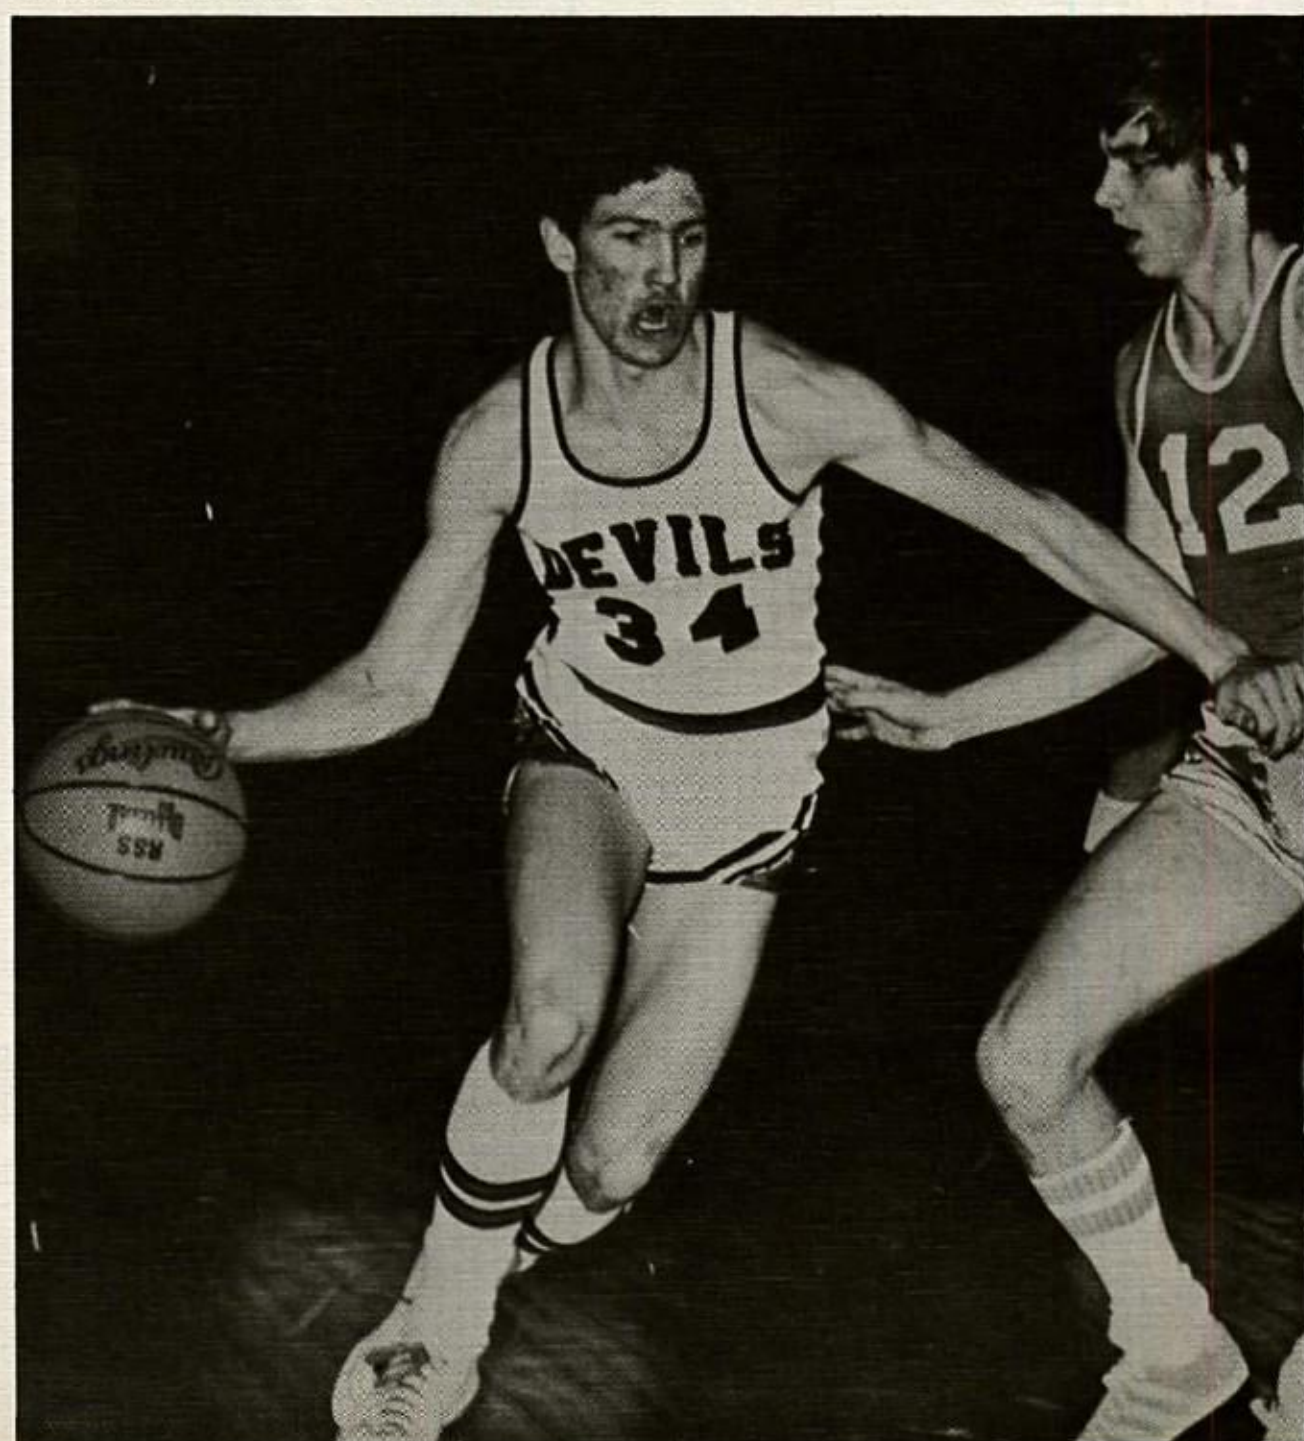

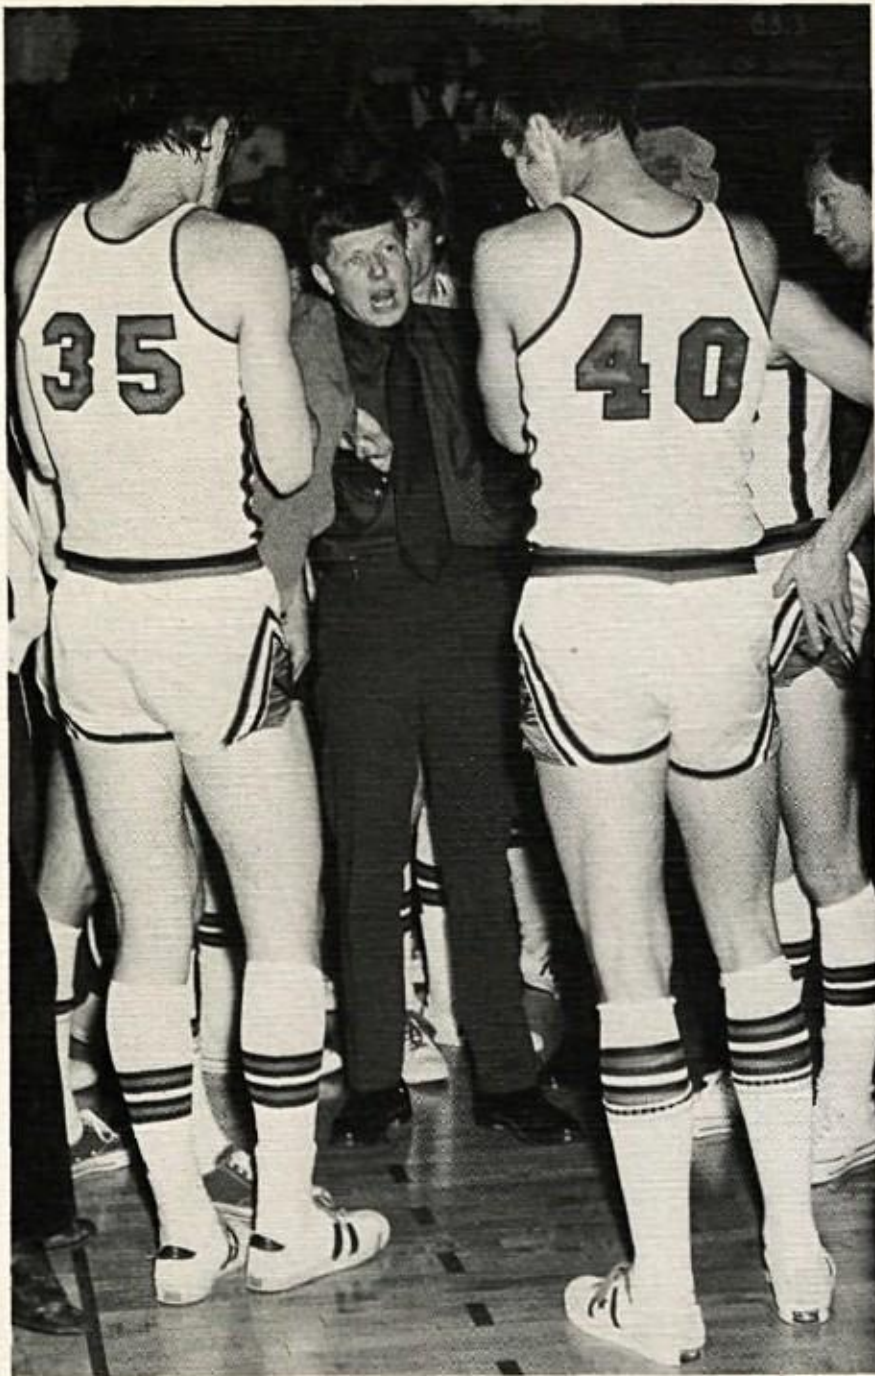

Trapped by the Devil.

The 1971-72 basketball team compiled the greatest record in the school's history. Starting off with an impressive 85-55 victory over Proviso East, they rolled off 16 consecutive victories including the DeKalb Holiday Tournament Championship. Their streak was broken at LaGrange when they were dumped by the Lions 54-45. After their defeat to LaGrange the Devils took on a new look with a special full court press devised by Hinsdale's head coach, Ken Johnson and finished the conference season with 5 straight wins, passing LaGrange in conference standings. Hinsdale opened up the state tournament with a record breaking score of 115-69 with All-State candidate Jim Flynn scoring 50 points for another school record.

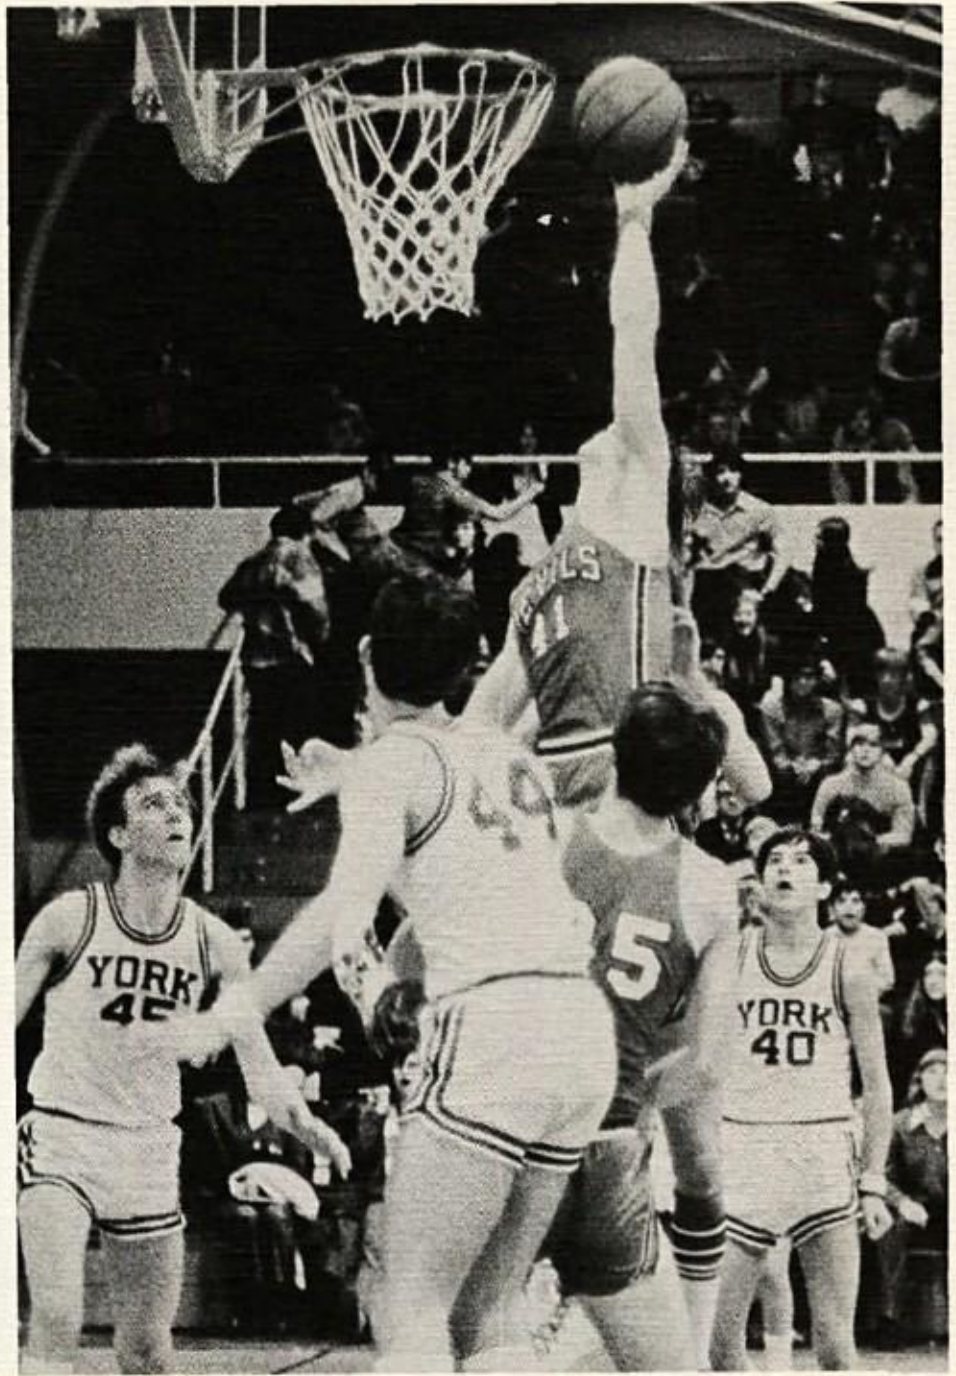

After earning a berth at Champaign trouncing LaGrange 66-59, Hinsdale dropped a heartbreaker to East Aurora 83-81, thus ending their championship hopes. The Red Devils finished with a 26-2 record for the season.

HT sweeps Conference, District, Sectional, State

John Thornell receives some pointers from his coach.

Led by newly instated head coach Paul Omi and his assistant, former HT great Neil Krupicka, the '71-'72 Red Devil gymnastics team met the challenge presented by foes Arlington, Evanston, and Glenbrook South. All year the gymnasts remained on top of the dual meet average scores. Highlights of the year included the close dual meet against Arlington, which Hinsdale won 149 to 147. The next night the Devils set a new national record of 154.43.

Individual standouts this year included Ted Marcy and Jerry Poynton on sidehorse, Steve Schutt and Kim Erwin in the all-around, Wes Gill and Doug Shokes on parallel bars, and Bob Holland and junior Doug Wood on the rings. All were state finalists who helped Hinsdale surpass arch rival Arlington in the finals by nearly 35 points. At the finals, returning state champ Ted Marcy wore the crown again scoring a phenomenal 9.75, a score considered to be the highest ever by a high school gymnast.

HT swimmers capture sixth consecutive state title

A wet but happy Russ Meyer accepts congratulations.

For the sixth consecutive year, Hinsdale swim team outclassed the competition and won the state championship to tie the record of most consecutive state victories held by Lane Tech from 1938-1943.

One of the highlights of the year was the dual meet between Hinsdale and Saint Xavier of Ohio, that decided the number two team in the nation. Hinsdale overwhelmed their Ohio foes, 61-34.

Going into the state meet, co-captains Tom Beyer and Russ Meyer led the team to twelve more dual meet victories adding to the string of seventy-seven which extends back to 1965 without a defeat.

Hinsdale qualified a full team, eighteen individuals, another first in HT history, for the state meet held at New Trier East. Tom Beyer, and Russ Meyer were the meet's only double winners. Other HT winners were Glen Disosway, Greg Scott, George Congreve and Roger Kodat.

Leading the wrestling team was Cooper Ashley, a district champion with a 20-4-2 record for the season. He was followed by Karl Schoenberger (20-7). Both were seniors, and both fell to pieces in the sectional tournament.

But there were some promising performances by some juniors on the team. Heavyweight Bob Leff would have done well in the district tournament if he hadn't injured his knee late in the season. Don Kaigebein wrestled hot and cold all year long but went to the sectionals and had a great amount of undiscovered potential. Rik Gutzke did an excellent job filling in for Ashley at 132 while the weights were being shuffled around.

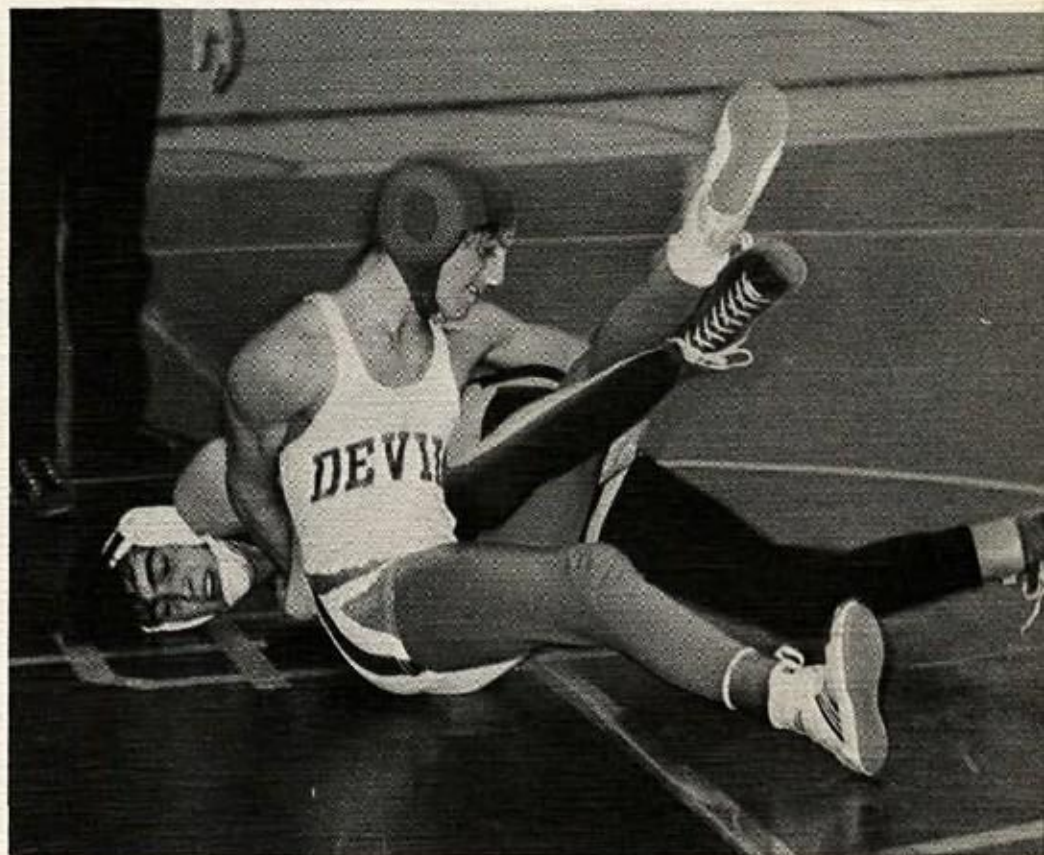

The wrestlers finished 3-4 in conference which was enough to earn a fifth place. Joining Kaigebein in the sectional tournament were seniors Mark Hilts (a district champion) and Mark Schaible, along with Ashley and Schoenberger who were expected to get down state but failed.

Devils finish low, look forward to outdoor season

This year's indoor track team duplicated last year's effort by finishing one place out of last in the conference meet. Senior Bob Hardig and junior Scott Ashby were the only Devils who placed, from a team that consisted mostly of juniors. Hardig got a third in the 50 yard dash and the 60 yard low hurdles. Ashby finished second in the long jump.

Yell leaders boost support at athletic events

Yell Leaders were in their second year of existence at Hinsdale this year. Girls were chosen on the basis of pep and cheering ability. Cheering at wrestling, gymnastics, cross country, track, and baseball boosted the morale of the Red Devil teams. Mrs. Jo Ann Giltner sponsored the yell leaders this year. Six girls were selected from each class.

Pom-Pon girls kick up spirit at game half-times

Members of the Pom-Pon Squad attended summer camp for the first time this year. Many new steps were incorporated in routines that led to a more modern dance trend. In the fall, the girls sold tickets to a polo game where they performed to raise money for new uniforms. The new outfits were the same style sweaters with white skirts with inverted red pleats. Pom-Pons hope to purchase uniforms each year with funds from similar activities. In March, the whole squad modeled in their second annual fashion show sponsored by Best and Company. Tryouts were held in early May with a greater emphasis on dancing steps than had been in past years.

Varsity Squad takes second in cheering competition

The Varsity cheerleaders worked on more school spirit and involvement this year. They used acrobatics and different mounts for their half-time displays. The eight girls placed second in the cheerleading competition at Yorktown this fall and won a ribbon at their camp in the summer. A new addition to the squad was their new red stadium coats donated by a member of the community.

The Imp cheerleaders acquired many new skills from summer camp where they earned seven ribbons plus the spirit stick. One of their main objectives this year was to always support their teams loyally whether winning or losing. The girls were also dressed in new red skirts this year.

Sons of Satan support best basketball team in years

Sons of Satan continued their tradition of leading cheers at football and basketball games both home and away. New chants were added this year in addition to the revival of the spirit can. Led by Steve Of-ferdahl the Sons of Satan let the crowd know that they were present and brought them together for a strong team support. Any junior or senior boy could join in with spirit and voice.

Variety of sports are offered for Hinsdale girls

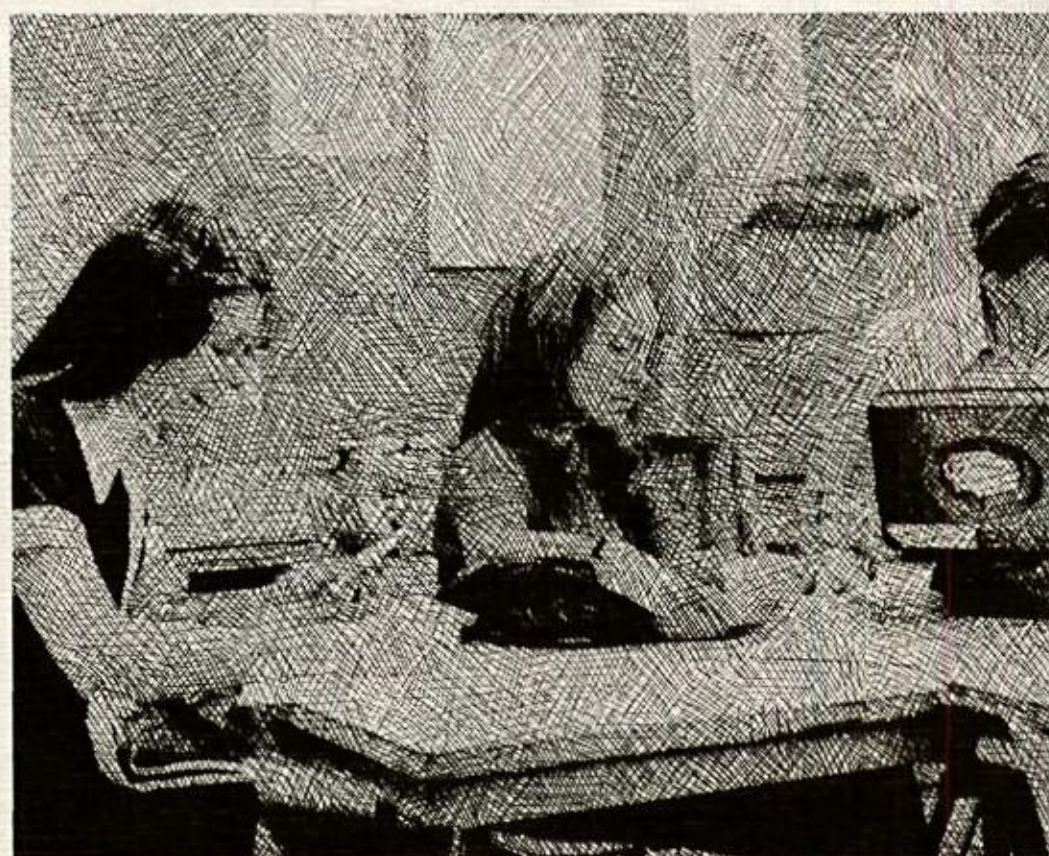

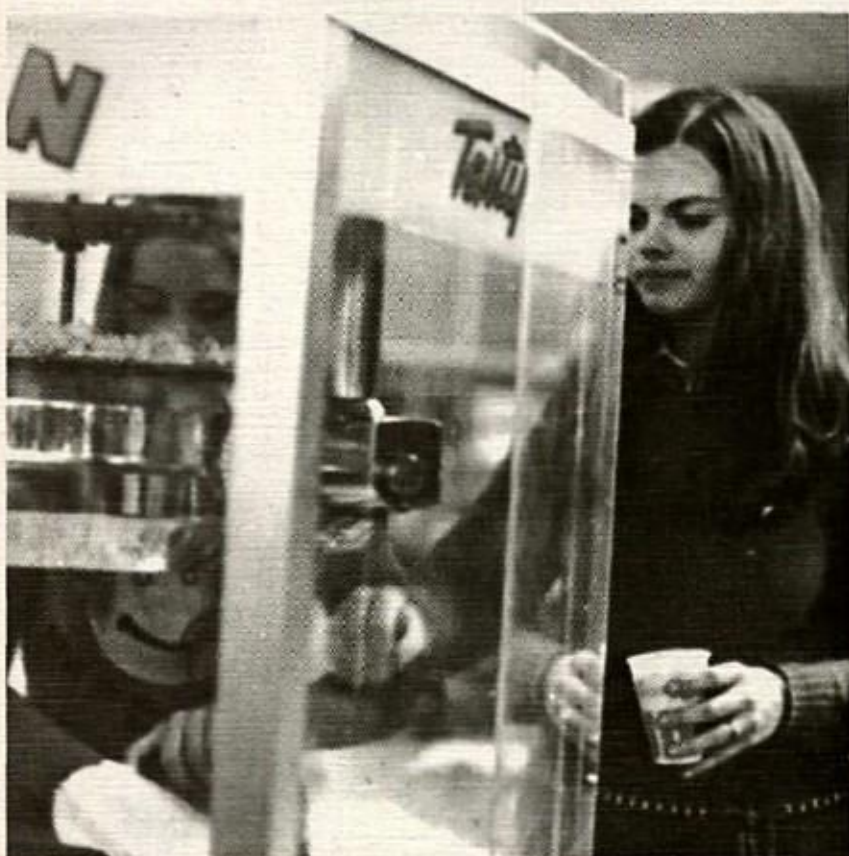

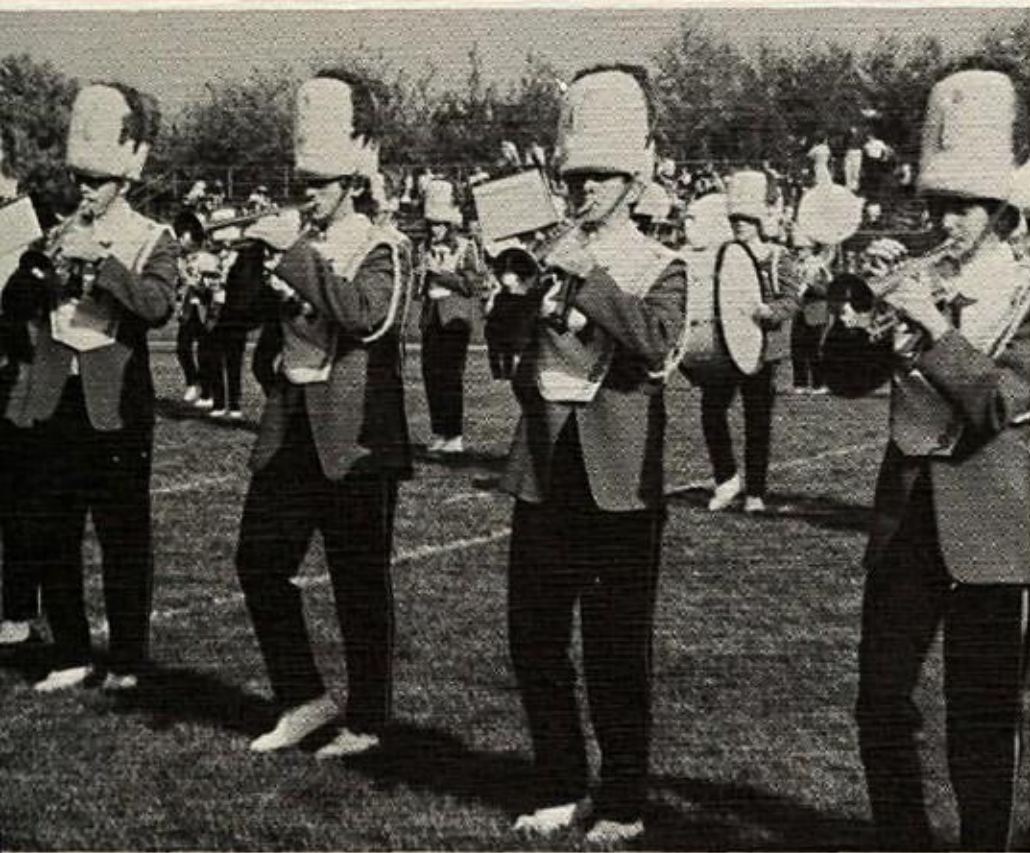

A perfectly timed return.

For girls interested in extracurricular sports, competition both intramural and interscholastic was offered. Girls participated in tennis, swimming, basketball, volleyball, badminton, bowling, and softball. HT competed with other schools in tennis, volleyball, badminton, and softball. The tennis team continued last year's fine performance with an undefeated season. This stretched their winning streak to 15 wins. 6 sports days, held through out the year, provided extra competition. Sponsors for girls' extracurricular sports were Miss Dekan, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Pawlowski, and Mrs. Reeder.

In an attempt to provide swimming competition for girls, Sandy Bucha took court action this year. A senior, Sandy tried to establish a girls' swimming program comparable to that offered for boys. Until it can be set up, she wants girls to have the opportunity of swimming with the boys in competition. Sandy, aided by the Civil Liberties Union, went to court even though she will not be affected by any resulting change.

AFS: One small step for man, a giant leap for peace

AFS's big goal this year was to raise money to sponsor an AFS student for next year. This year, also, Foreign Exchange students from other schools in the area visited classes here. During Christmas the AFS'ers went to the Museum of Science and Industry to see Christmas Around The World.

AFS also continued to sponsor Santa here at HT during Christmas. Mr. Hake was the jolly man while Mr. Valentine and Mr. Garrison served as his elf helpers.

The Christmas spirit hits the faculty as three members of HT's Science department help AFS raise money.

Aquaettes, the epitome of grace, perform once again

Four Aquaettes perform one of their synchronized swimming routines in preparation for the annual show.

Aqua-ettes helped girls interested in synchronized swimming to improve their skills. Weekly meetings were held for learning new stunts, building endurance and finally producing the annual show.

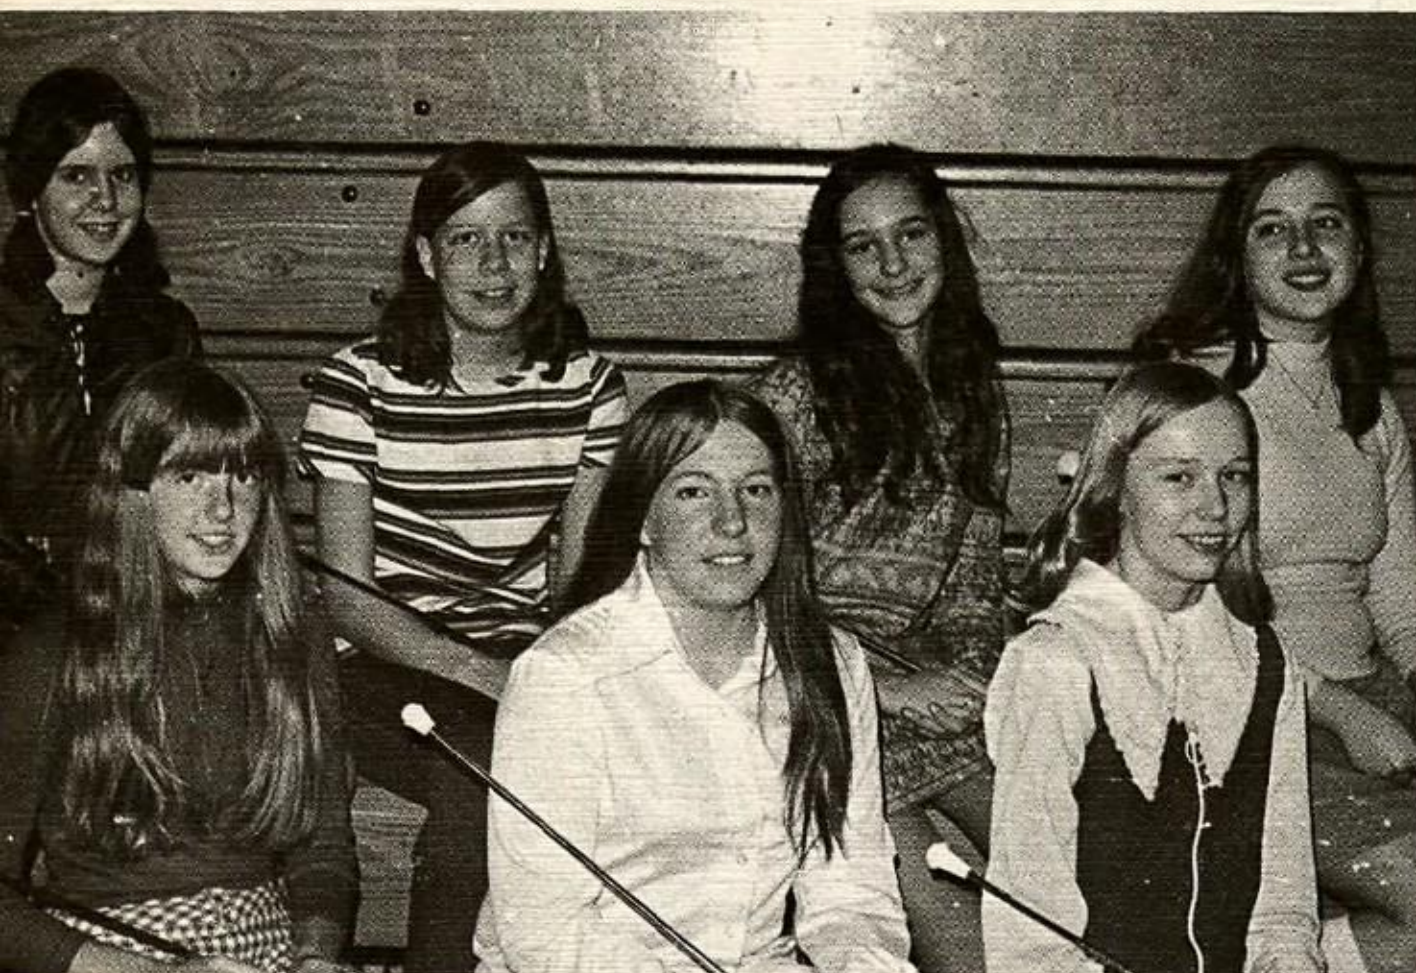

This year's show was given the weekend of April 27-29. The theme was centered around the calendar. The show was financed by money-making projects, selling concessions at a football game, and the proceeds from last year's show.

Social events included a pot luck and a pool party.

Baton Club spins to life and whirls through 2nd year

The girls in HT's two year old Baton Club continued to work on improving their twirling skills. In the future they would like to twirl at pep fests and basketball games. Since most of the club's members were freshmen it was still developing as an organization with the goals of using a unique skill to foster school spirit and building up each girl's confidence. Mrs. Giltner, a math teacher and former majorette, sponsored the girls. She made up the routines and taught them to the girls. They then practiced them to the tune of popular music. The work time for the twirlers was 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock every Thursday afternoon.

Bridge Club trumps up new card playing enthusiasts

Business Club enterprisingly provides opportunity

Business Club's job was to acquaint the members with job opportunities in the immediate area as well as in the Loop. (Tours were sometimes the deciding factor in helping them make their choice.) Sponsors of the club helped the girls find summer or fulltime employment.

The club installed a cold water fountain on the second floor, west end of the building, donated $100 for the memorial fund for Mr. Robert Graves and Mr. Russell Poppenhager, and for the first time this year gave a $100 scholarship to one of the members furthering her education in business.

Chess Club checks chances for tops in conference

The purpose of Chess Club this year was to help the student improve his chess playing and have fun. The club had meets with other West Suburban Conference schools and there was a final all-school meet. The club also played in the United Chess Federation Tournament. The club has taken co-championships and 2nd place in West Suburban Conference.

Computer Club programs 2BAD disk to write poems

Computer Math Club devoted its energies this year towards expanding the knowledge of its members in Fortran IV and Assembler languages, and in new programming techniques. As soon as most members understood the principles used, they wrote, with the aid of their new disk named 2BAD by the members, a program that would write simple forms of poetry, and a program that would play that old study-hall standby, battleship.

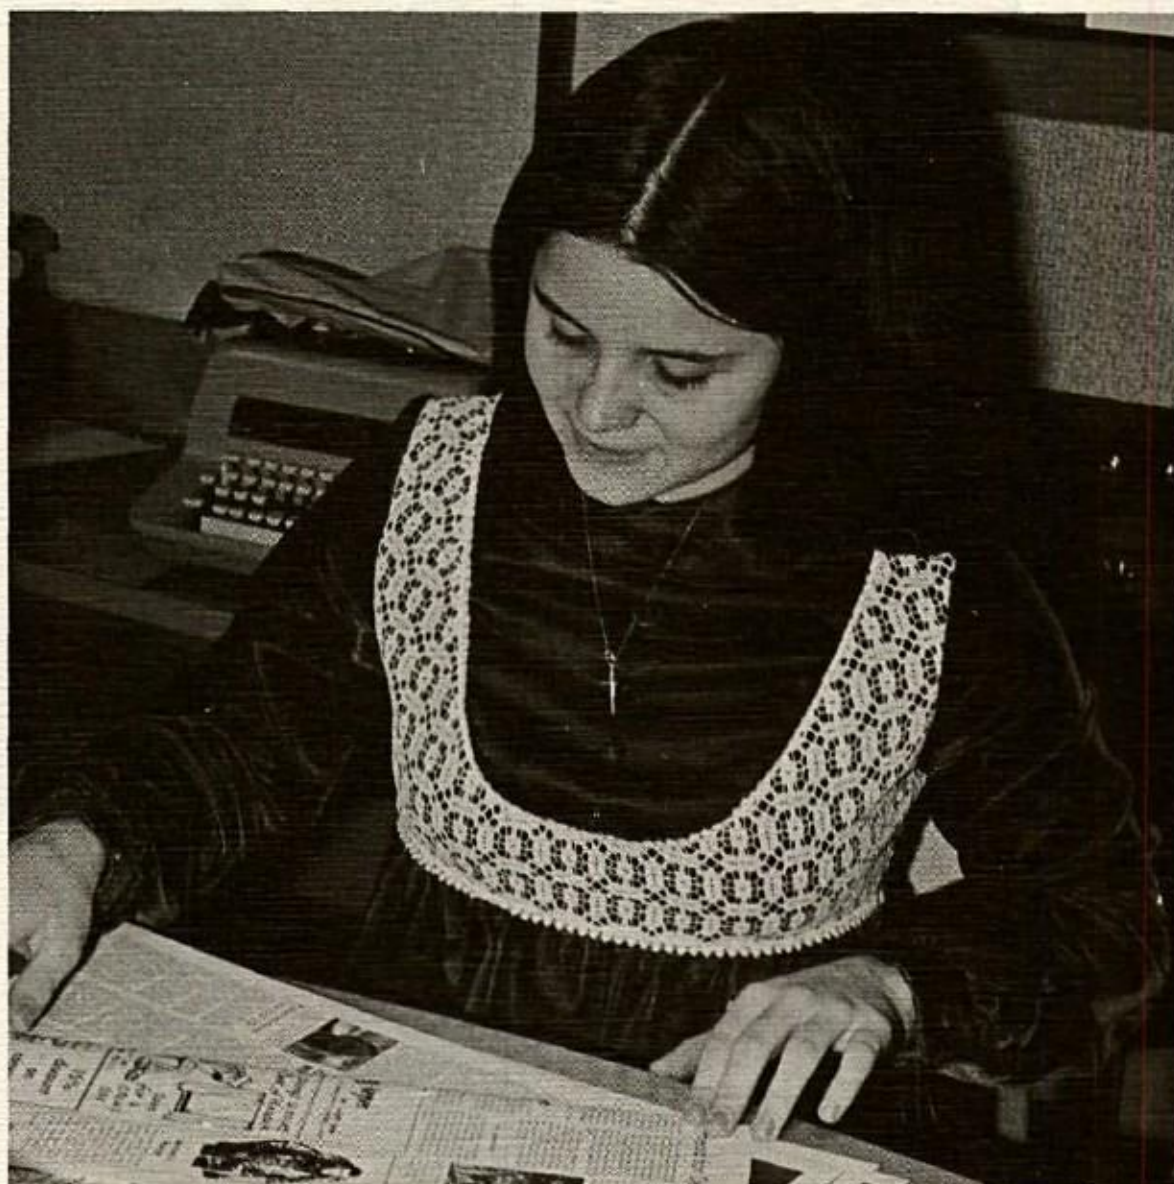

Courier staffers are awarded an "All American"

"Junior Power," "Women's Lib," "Look to the Future," and the ever-famous "money" were some of the sounds that could be heard echoing from the Courier building this year.

The most notable changes for the 71-72 Courier came from within the ranks. The male faction of this year's staff found concentration to be a bit difficult at times since 70 percent of the staff members were HT women.

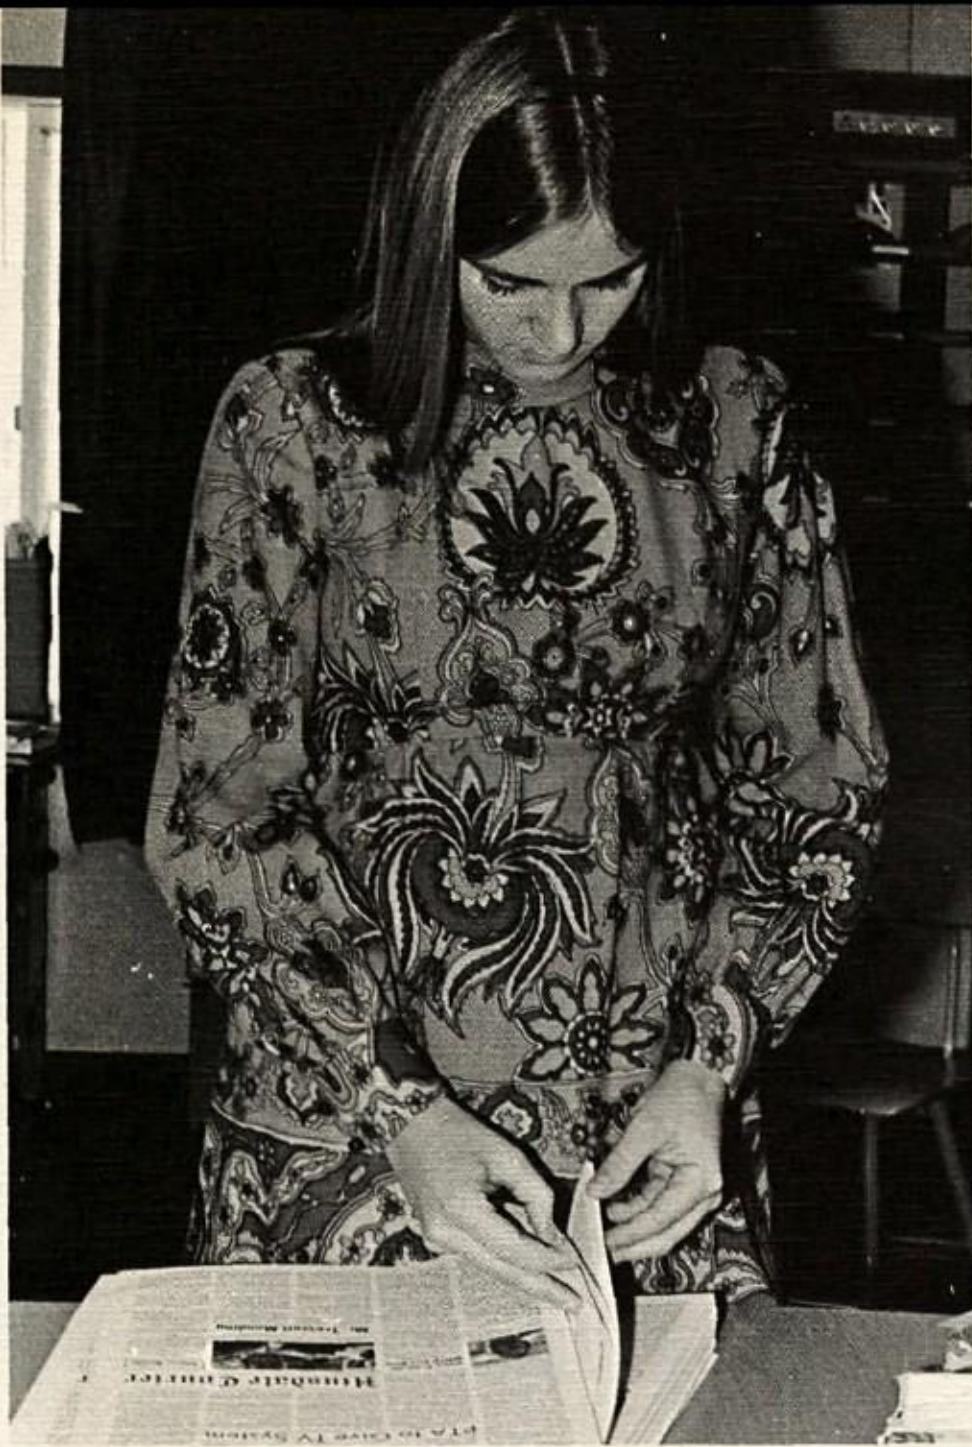

In spite of an especially tight publications budget, Courier staffers once again proved themselves to be among the nation's best as they were awarded the "ALL AMERICA" rating in competition with other high school papers at the University of Minnesota for the fourth straight year.

"Junior Power" that heavily influenced the 71-72 Courier should make a big difference next year when the juniors that comprised 80 percent of the 1971-72 staff return to the south portable and put their experience to work.

FCA unites athletics and Christianity with fellowship

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes was organized this year to find ways to make athletes aware of God's presence and grace, and then to share with others the challenge and adventure of following Christ.

The meetings normally consisted of Bible study and discussion, and sometimes a special guest speaker addressed the group. Through the fellowship at the meetings each athlete could find a new avenue of approach to his problems and pressures on and off the athletic spotlight.

FTA gives opportunities to student teach in grades

Future Teachers of America was Hinsdales group of concerned students who wanted to become teachers. These future educators taught at the grade schools this year and learned what children were really like. The choice of grade level was optional and each cadet teacher received one credit for contributing.

GR service projects appeal to student for support

Girl Reserves continued to try to reach more people as a service club. The Spring Formal was GR's main money-making project, but was only a small part of what Girl Reserves means to the girls involved.

This year GR continued the tradition of the Big and Little Sister Tea and Pow Wow and also collected canned goods and bought turkeys for three families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. They decorated the auditorium for the Christmas Choral Concert and ran a Christmas Card Post Office.

GR also chose and sponsored the Hawaiian Exchange Student from Hinsdale and invited the Hawaiian girl to be an honorary board member and bought her books. At the end of the year, Girl Reserves gave over $1,000 in scholarships to graduating senior girls.

Guard joins in Swim-A-Thon, helps buy timer

The Guard Organization taught Saturday morning swim school and assisted with PE classes. They life-guarded at recreational swims and aided and supported the swimming team.

Guard and swimmers earned $8,750 this year in the Swim-A-Thon. The money was used to buy an electronic timing device called Kyloscope.

The annual Guard Show was titled "Caught-off Guard: Backstage." The 1971-72 officers were Terry Schwartz, boy's head guard; Debbie Knox, girl's head guard; Russ Meyer, boy's assistant head guard; Candi Hutchinson, girl's assistant head guard; Barb Gasior, secretary; and Sue Heinrich, treasurer. Sponsors this year were Miss Dekan, Coach Watson, and Coach Erickson.

Girls' Intramurals offer conditioning exercises

Intramurals had a new face this year. They opened up sports to any girl interested. Their turnout was exceptional.

On the Interscholastic level, they became typical HTHSC athletes. They as teams bombed LTHS, HT South, RB, and York. The girls interscholastic teams were number one in all that they did.

The club sponsored concessions at the football games, worked the foul boards for basketball games, and sponsored Fun Nights for girls on those dull Friday nights.

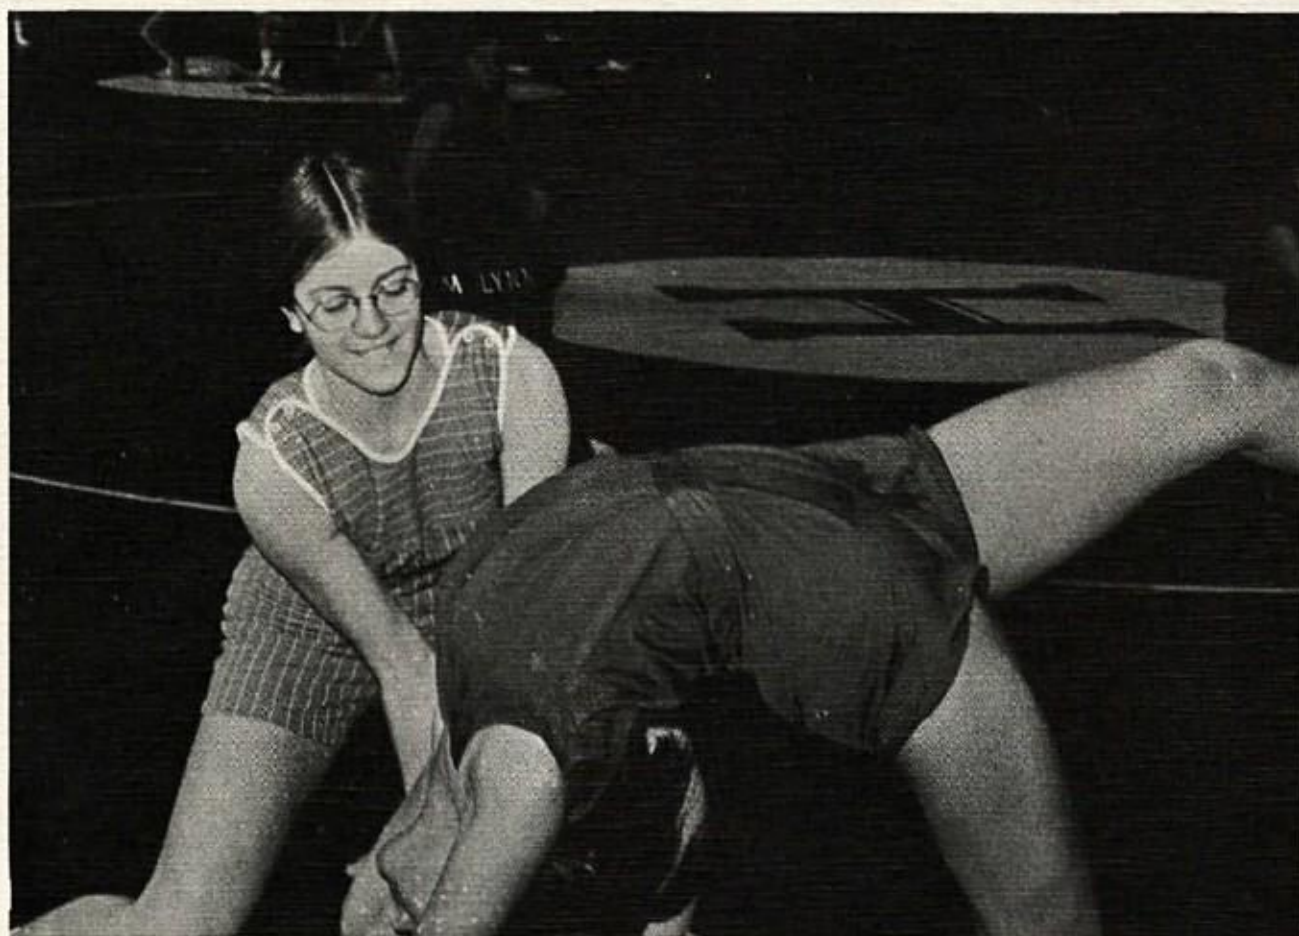

Additions this year were conditioning, bowling sports days, and swimming sportsdays.

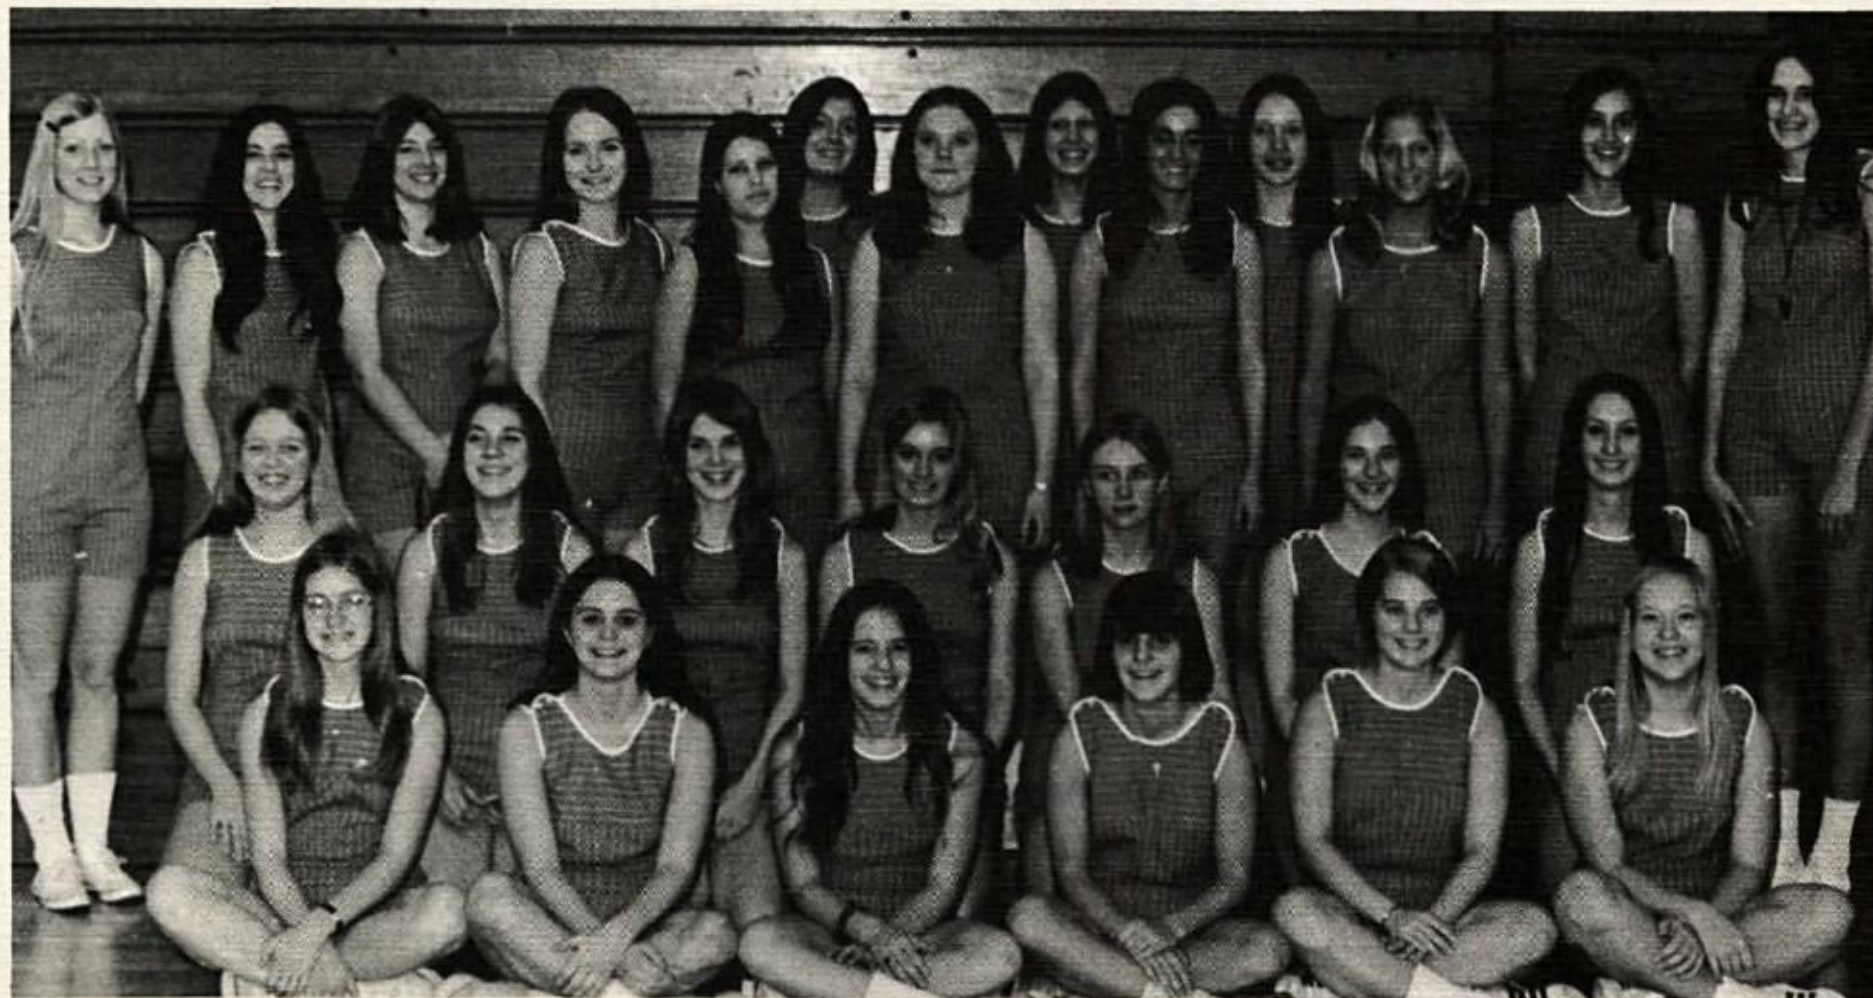

Leaders demonstrate outstanding ability in athletics

The purpose of Leaders was to assist the teachers with equipment. They also lead exercises, officiated at games and make-up tournaments. They went through stiff training for two years. So being a leader seemed to be good training for a girl planning on going into a physical education program.

H-Club controls crowds, brings Bears to school

This year the H-Club was in charge of crowd control at basketball games and gymnastics meets. The club sponsored the Donkey Basketball game again and was in charge of concessions for the State Tournament Sectional Basketball games at Hinsdale. The lettermen were also co-sponsors of the Chicago Bears vs. the Faculty basketball game.

They purchased two weight-lifting machines and supplied all squads with Red Blazers on the days of the games.

Home-Ec club sells jar openers, stationery, fudge

The Home-Ec Club saw to it that they entertained their parents with a Father-Daughter Supper, as well as a Mother-Daughter Tea. The club members also enjoyed making and selling fudge and going to a Halloween Party.

This year, they sold stationery and jar openers. The profits went toward the Helen C. Hadish Memorial Scholarship fund which is awarded annually to the eligible senior applying.

At the end of the year, the four members who contributed most to the club were treated to an elegant dinner.

Ham operators talk to amateurs around the world

The Hinsdale Central Amateur Radio Operators Club or "Ham Club" was one of the little known clubs at HT. The foremost objective of the club, under the direction of Robert Wolfer, was to teach the basic skills needed to know to pass the exam for an amateur radio license.

The main project for this year was to rejuvenate the antenna and tower which adorn the court yard. Money was provided from the sale of Hinsdale Red Devil stickers and various other projects. Students in the club talked daily to other hams throughout the U S and the world.

Scribblers join Image in expressing HT creativity

Image is the name given traditionally to Hinsdale Central's literary magazine. This magazine, designed to give audience to those artists and students not ordinarily recognized, had been mostly devoted to creative writing until the past few years. This year's Image had 5 categories: poetry, fiction, non-fiction, art, and photography. "Quality not Quantity" was considered important.

The editors were Mary Driscoll, Al Herre, Penney Elsey, Lynn Uretsky, Steve Mascarella, and Linda Johnson.

The Scribblers was a new group started this year to allow creative writers the opportunity to read their works to a small, intimate audience of their peers. Such recognition often leads to more profuse production and the aim of the group was to (1) provide constructive criticism, (2) offer instruction when it is needed and (3) present an interested audience to the serious writer that he might not obtain elsewhere. There were no officers, nor was there any formal organization.

The Key Club served the school and community, for instance, by helping the Garden Club recycle glass and helped Kiwanis Club with Peanut Day and Pancake Day.

The club devoted a day in January to clean up the cafeteria and one to clean up the outside of the school. In the spring they held the Phoebus Olympics.

Language Clubs visit restaurants and sponsor sales

HT's language clubs continued their practice of fun and food for all with parties and candy sales throughout the school year. Russian club sponsored a trip to the film "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisov" and a Christmas party, as well as lollipop sales.

German Club planned various money making schemes to finance trips to the North Side of Chicago and to German restaurants, and Spanish Club also planned sales.

French Club increased its membership and planned a trip to Il barbiere de sviglia, and Latin Club became the only language club represented in the Homecoming parade with its float.

71-72 state contest problems attacked by Math Club

The members of math club attacked or were attacked by problems from the last year's State Math Contest. In the spring members took the 1972 State Math Contest. The two faculty sponsors of this club were Mr. Karl Randall and Mr. Frederick Gloff.

The members gathered every Friday afternoon and worked out problems from 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock. To celebrate the holiday season, the members got together around Christmas vacation and held a paper-plane throwing contest.

NHS holds pre-Christmas toy drive for handicapped

The members of National Honor Society were elected in the spring of their Junior year. The selection is made every year by teacher ballot on the basis of leadership, service, character, and scholarship.

Though already involved in the wide variety of activities that HT has to offer, many of this year's members showed the potential of NHS as an organization. These students acted as guides for Open House, sold programs at football games, tutored classmates, and offered to escort Trick-or-Treaters. In a pre-Christmas Drive, a vanload of toys was collected for a school for handicapped youngsters.

Photographers develop skills, enter national contests

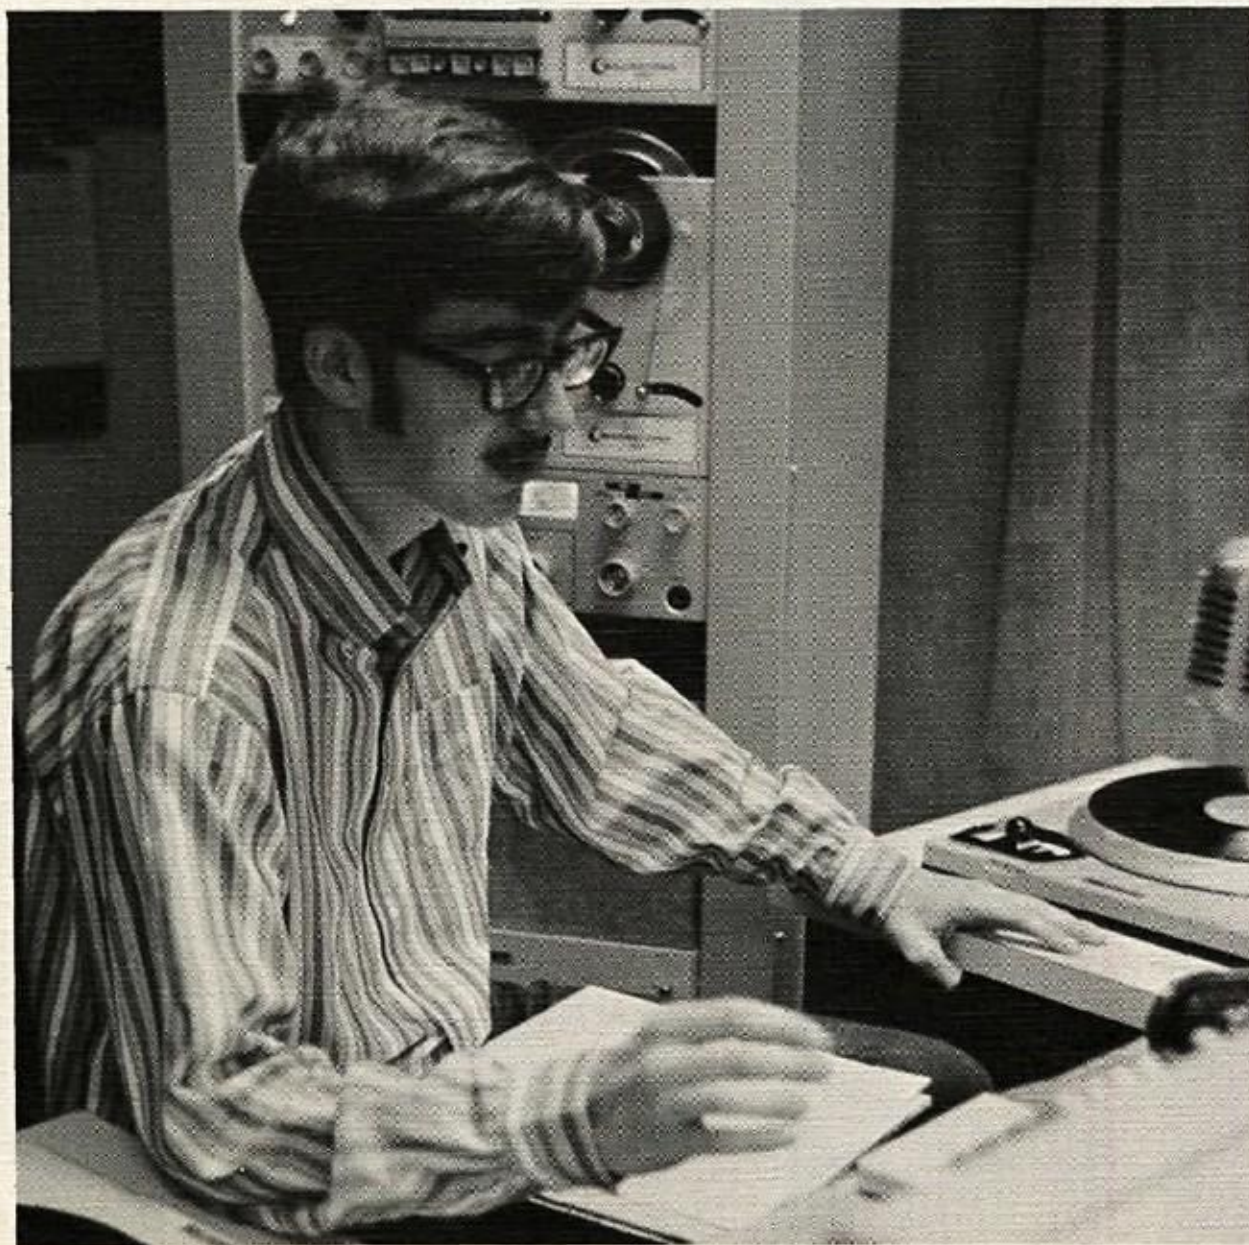

The Photo Club members were interested in developing their photographic ability by taking and making pictures. The members studied various elements of good picture taking and tried to put what they learned into photographs. There were National Contests sponsored by Scholastic Magazine as well as contests within the club.

WHSD airs rock music, news, weather, sports

WHSD radio began its second year of broadcasting this past December, 1971. The station began as a six watt facility with a 2½ hour broadcast day. WHSD, owned by Hinsdale High School District 86, and operated by the students was under the supervision of faculty advisor and general manager Mr. Tim Murphy. WHSD provided the Hinsdale area with both classical and rock music, news, weather, and live coverage of Red Devil baseball, football, and basketball. WHSD also began broadcasting a new talk show, Voice of 86, with Superintendent Ronald Simcox as co-host. The show focused on issues and current events in Hinsdale High School District 86.

In December, Hinsdale South began broadcasting each Monday from 3 to 5 along with live coverage of some Hinsdale South basketball games.

WHSD had a broadcast day of 8:00 a m until 9:00 p m Monday through Friday, and 10 a m until 10 p m each Saturday of the basketball season and operated at 12 watts. News and weather reports were given 3 times daily.

New repertory theater group makes its stage debut

The primary and most important function of Hinsdale Repertory theater was, of course, to provide students interested in all or some aspects of theater a chance to carry out their interests. As it stood, experience opportunities lay in two major sources;

1. Seminars — where special instruction in areas such as directing, acting, stagecraft, costuming and make-up was provided by various people knowledgeable in the field.
2. Productions — where what was learned in the seminars could be culminated into one show of the group's talent (or lack of it).

HTHSC seems to be noted for its abundance of talent in all areas of the arts; theater, music, art, etc. The problem is, for the most part, that a lot of this talent is hiding in the woodwork, only to graduate at the end of a four year term.

Student Council encounters dissention among ranks

The Senate consisted of 32 members—eight from each class. The group's meetings were always open and were sometimes attended by Mr. Danfelter, Dr. Adolphsen, and Mr. Spengler.

Student Council sponsored an all-school mixer at the beginning of the year, and was in charge of Christmas hall decorations, Homecoming Parade and Hall Monitors. A big project this year was installing the Coke and Candy machines.

The ideas that were brought up in the Senate meetings were taken to the Executive Board of Student Council, made of fine officers. The officers elaborated on the ideas and decided if they were worthwhile. They also worked with Class Advisory Board.

Plagued by internal personnel problems, the Executive Board and Senate still struggled to improve school conditions.

Varsity Club sponsors Homecoming dance, Pep Week

Varsity Club was once again in charge of the Homecoming dance and coronation of the queen. The organization sponsored busses to all the away games and this year tried to change Pep Week and make it less competitive. The club sold food at all the home games and sponsored HT's pep groups: cheerleaders, pom pon squad, and yell leaders.

Hinsdale's concert band is ruled by an iron paw

Despite a disappointing fifth place national ranking at Virginia Beach, Concert Band sought to regain face by aiming for its second consecutive state championship. Homecoming saw the Band-Orchestra float winning first in the Organization competition over the rivaled Guard. To highlight the year, another trip to Virginia Beach is being considered for a further try at number one in nation.

Varsity band works hard to achieve musical quality

Amid pep assemblies, homecoming parades, and basketball games, Varsity Band worked on improving instrumental techniques through varied music literature. It also provided competition for those seeking possible placement in Concert Band.

Nichoda and Micko lead jazz bands to top ratings

The Hi-Notes, led by Walter Nichoda, took a first rating in the Oak Lawn Jazz Festival. Juniors Barry Miller and Dave Frank were selected for the all-star band. They all participated in the Crown Point Jazz Festival and played for WTTW's auction.

Under Vince Micko, the Low-Notes served primarily as a training band for Hi-Notes, but also played at Oak Lawn.

Concert Choir cuts Christmas album, tours Europe

During 1971 Concert Choir and Madrigals recorded their second Christmas Album. In the course of the year they performed several concerts for the public and assemblies for the student body. The Madrigals, consisting of 16 members, and sextet, consisting of 6 members, appeared throughout Oakbrook, Hinsdale, and Clarendon Hills for 12 scheduled performances during the holidays.

The whole department was involved in two scheduled concerts, one at Christmas, and the other one during spring. Their annual Operetta, held during the third week of May, was Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Flower Drum Song."

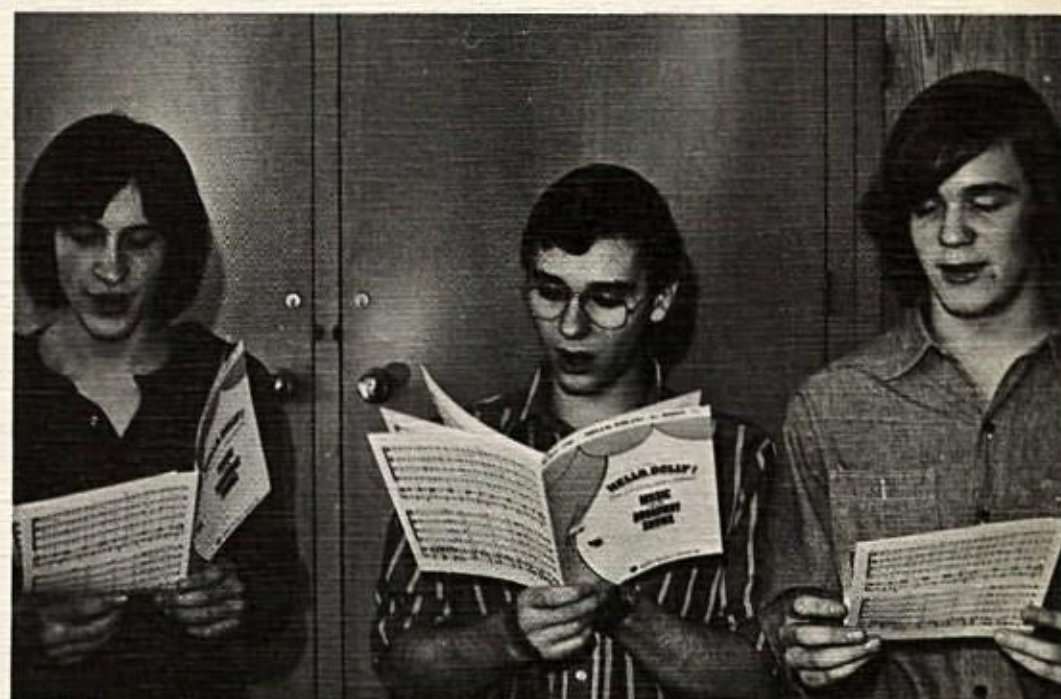

The Girls Choir and Mens Choir were selected groups from the various girls and mixed choruses through auditions. However, Girls and Mixed Choruses were open to all students.

ACADEMICS

"Speak well of your school; it will speak well of you"

The administration attempted to bridge communication gaps between students, parents, and teachers. Dr. Adolphsen held discussion sessions for concerned parents to voice their opinions and suggestions. Students were also given this opportunity in other meetings with the administration. As compared to past years, students were allowed more freedom during school hours. Late arrival and early dismissal programs were initiated for upper-classmen.

Study halls east and west took on a new look this year with carpeting and carrels. All students who took a study hall were given the option of going to the newly remodeled areas, the library, or other places designated for conversation.

Seniors were given their own room for independent study, free periods, and after school use.

Hinsdale judged most physically fit school in state

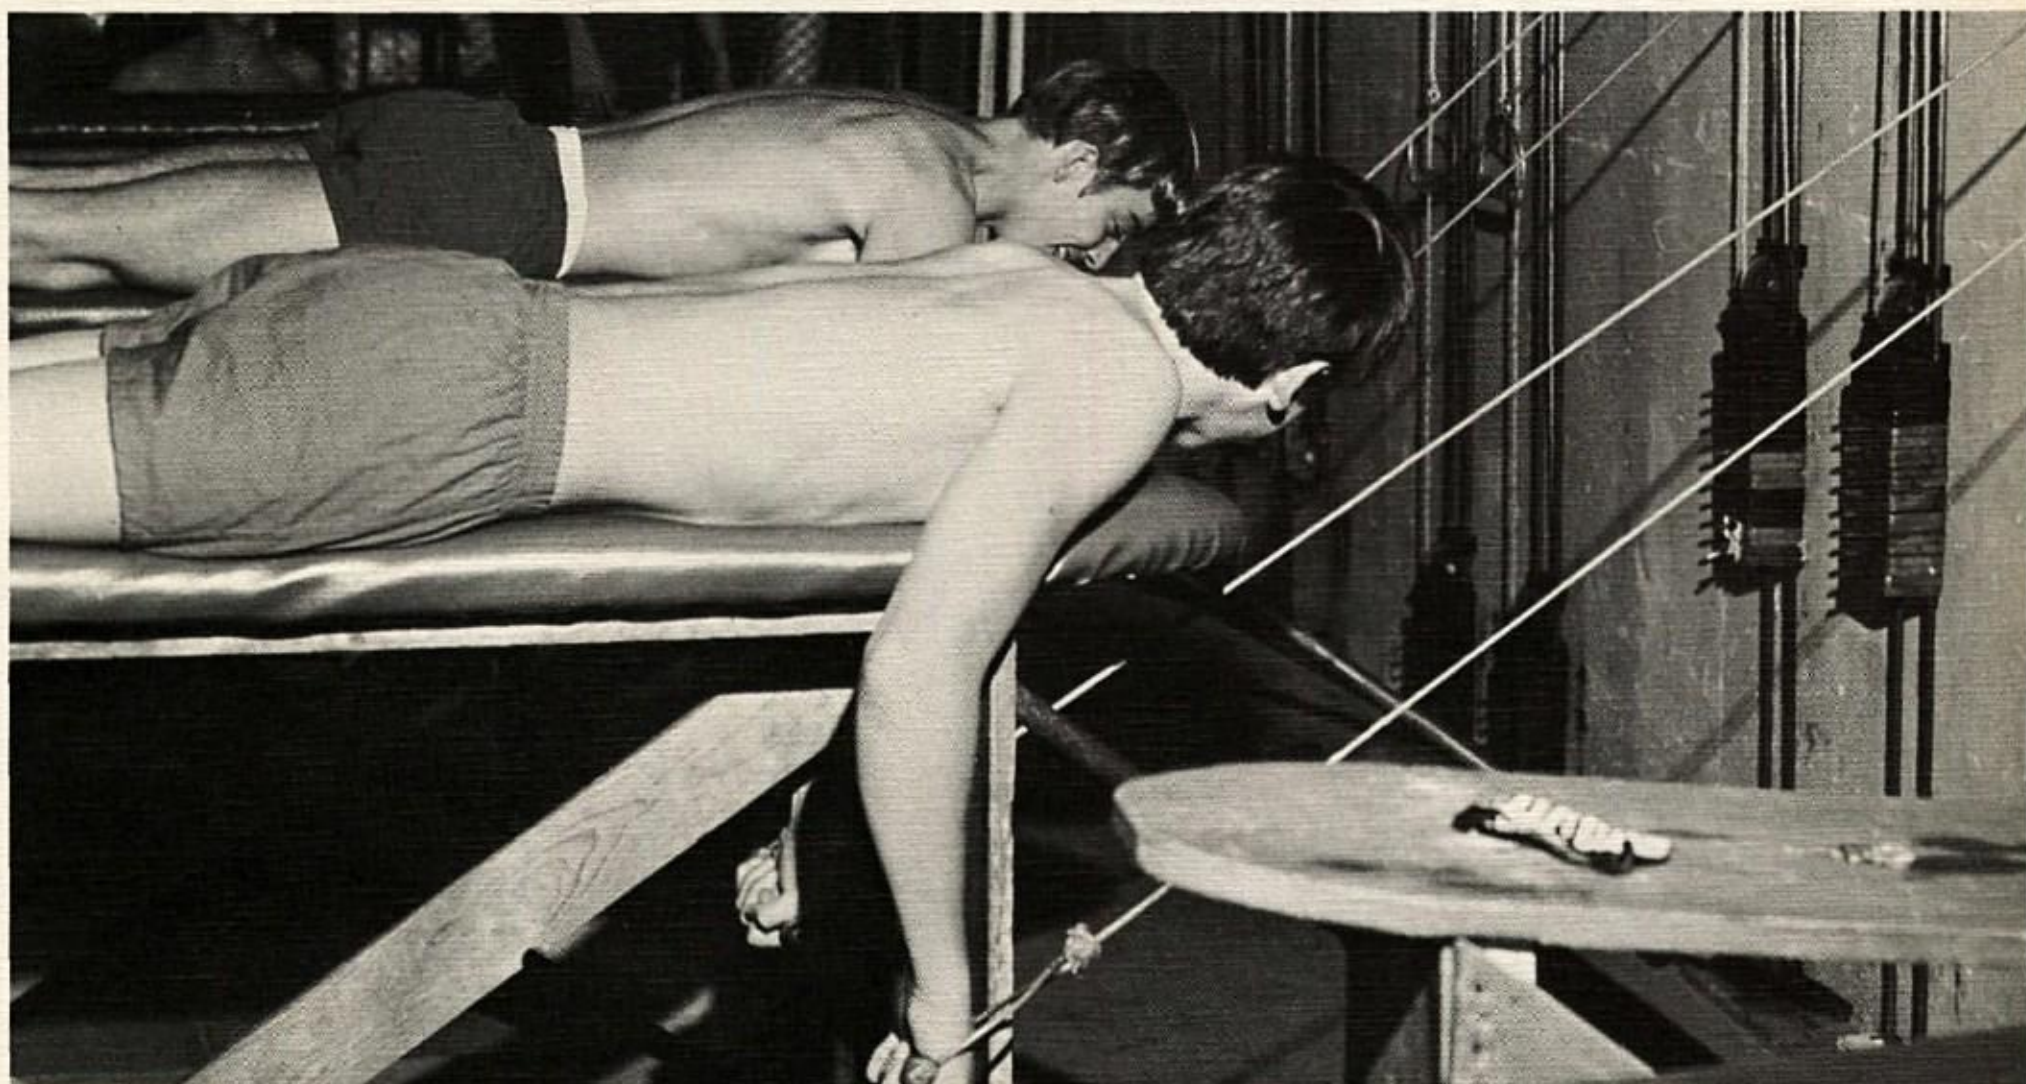

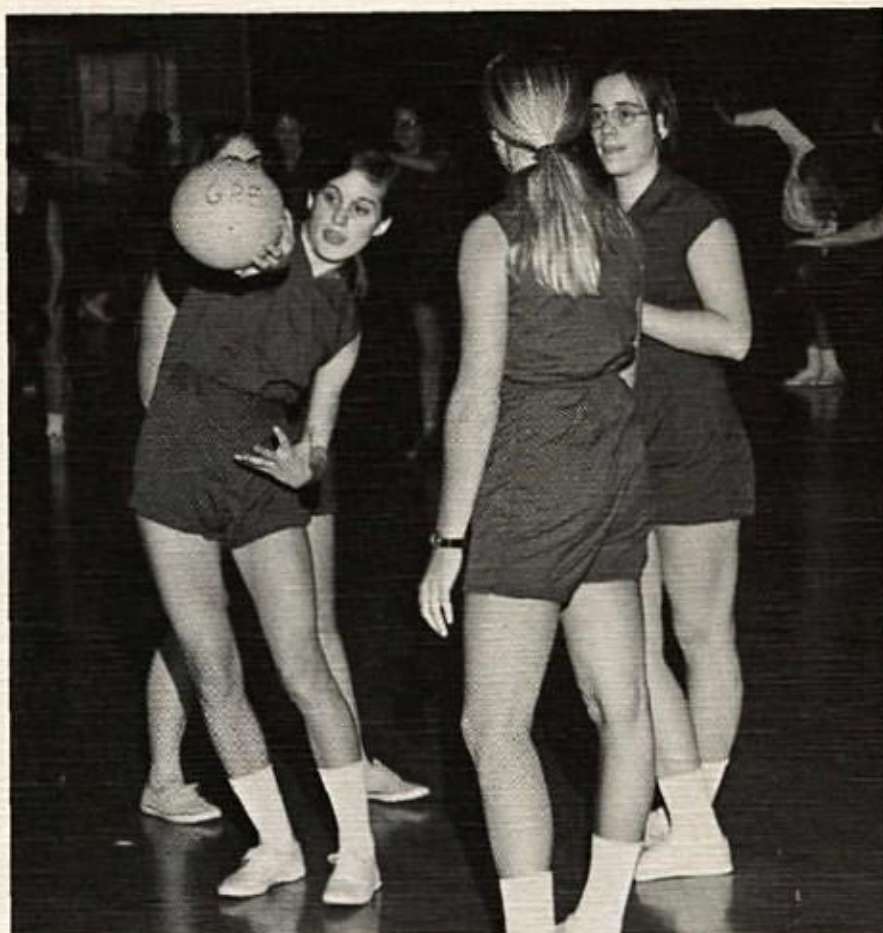

Hinsdale Central was honored this year as a 1971-72 President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports Demonstration Center. We were selected by state officials as exemplifying the finest standards of physical fitness in Illinois.

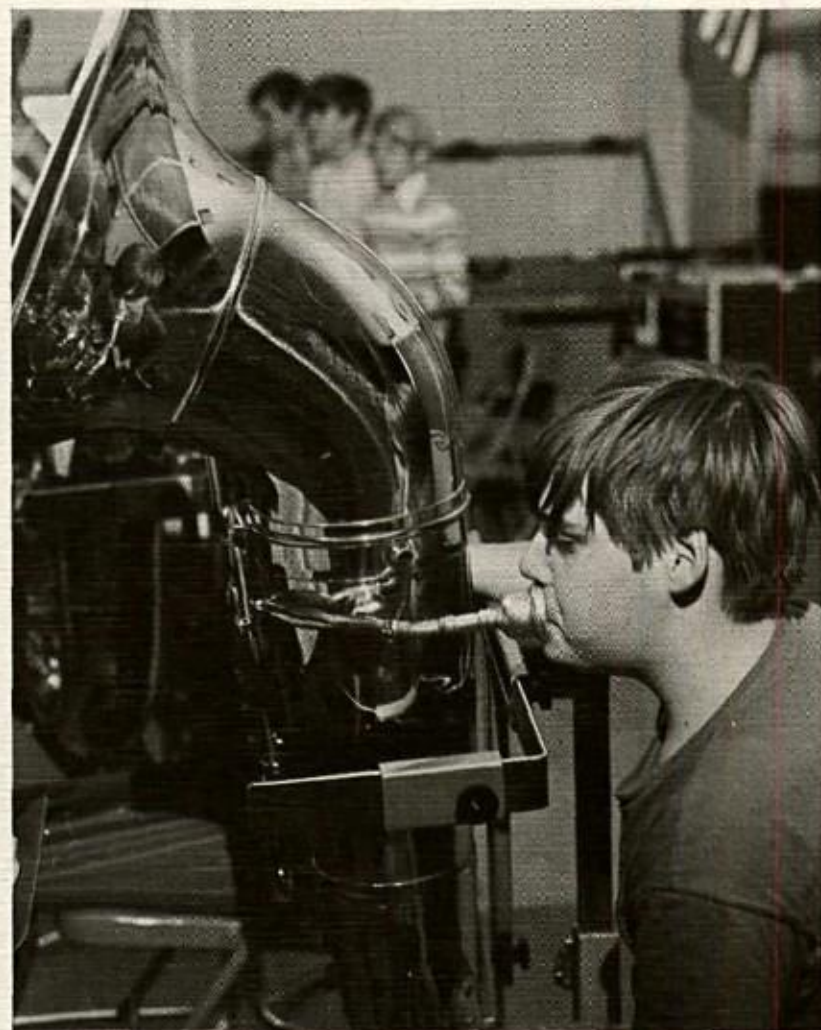

This year, the boys' department curriculum was altered to one similar to the girls'. The juniors and seniors combined classes and chose electives in P.E. Mr. Neil Krupicka was welcomed to the staff this year, and besides teaching, also coached gymnastics.

Students express natural talents through fine arts

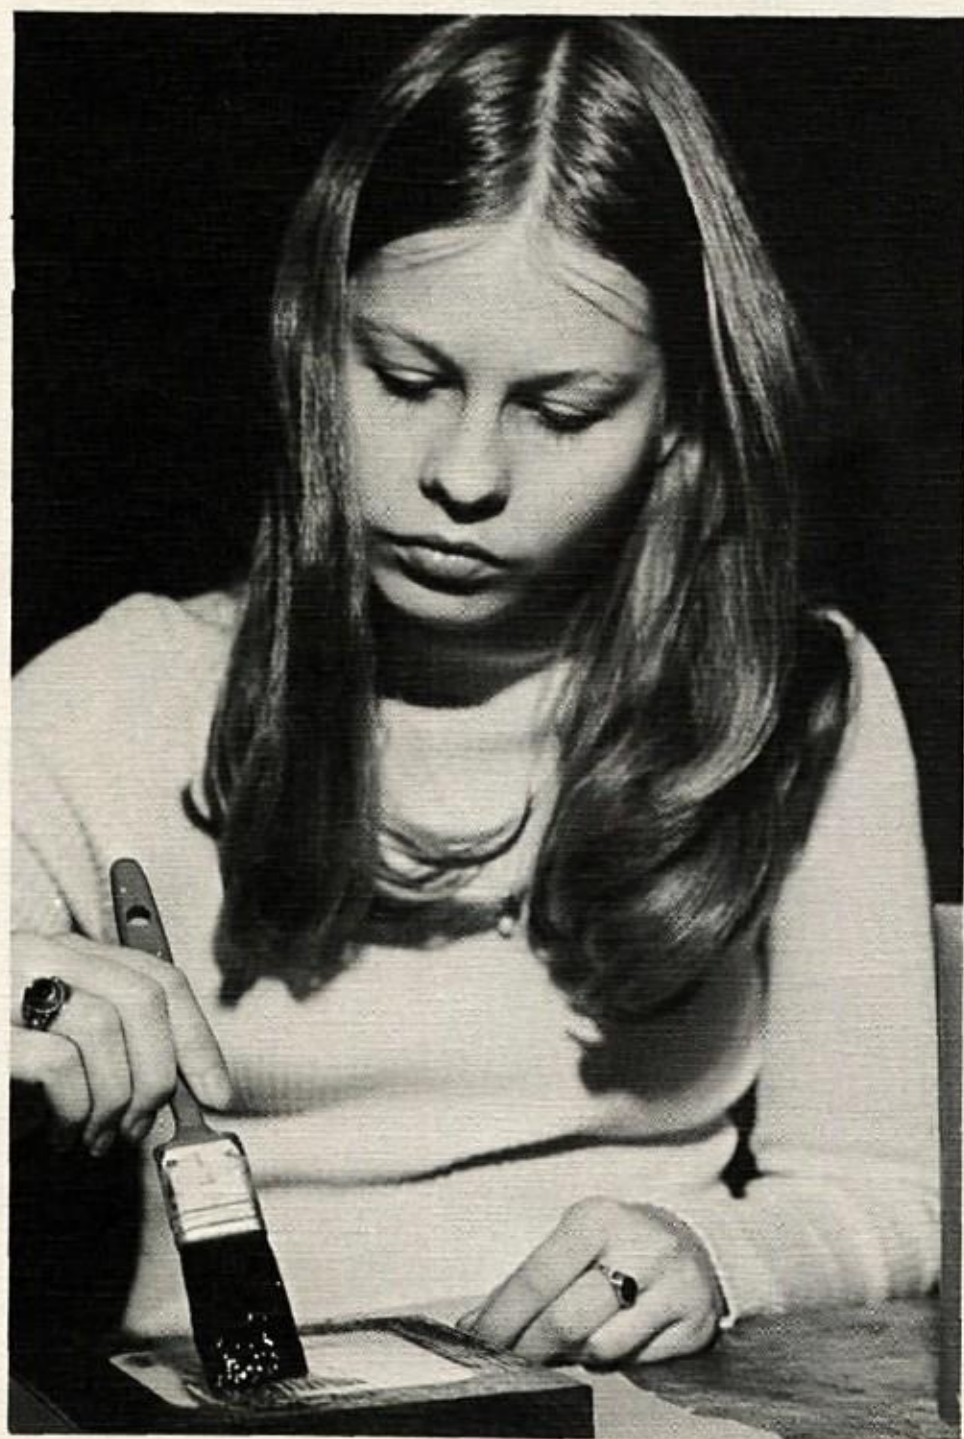

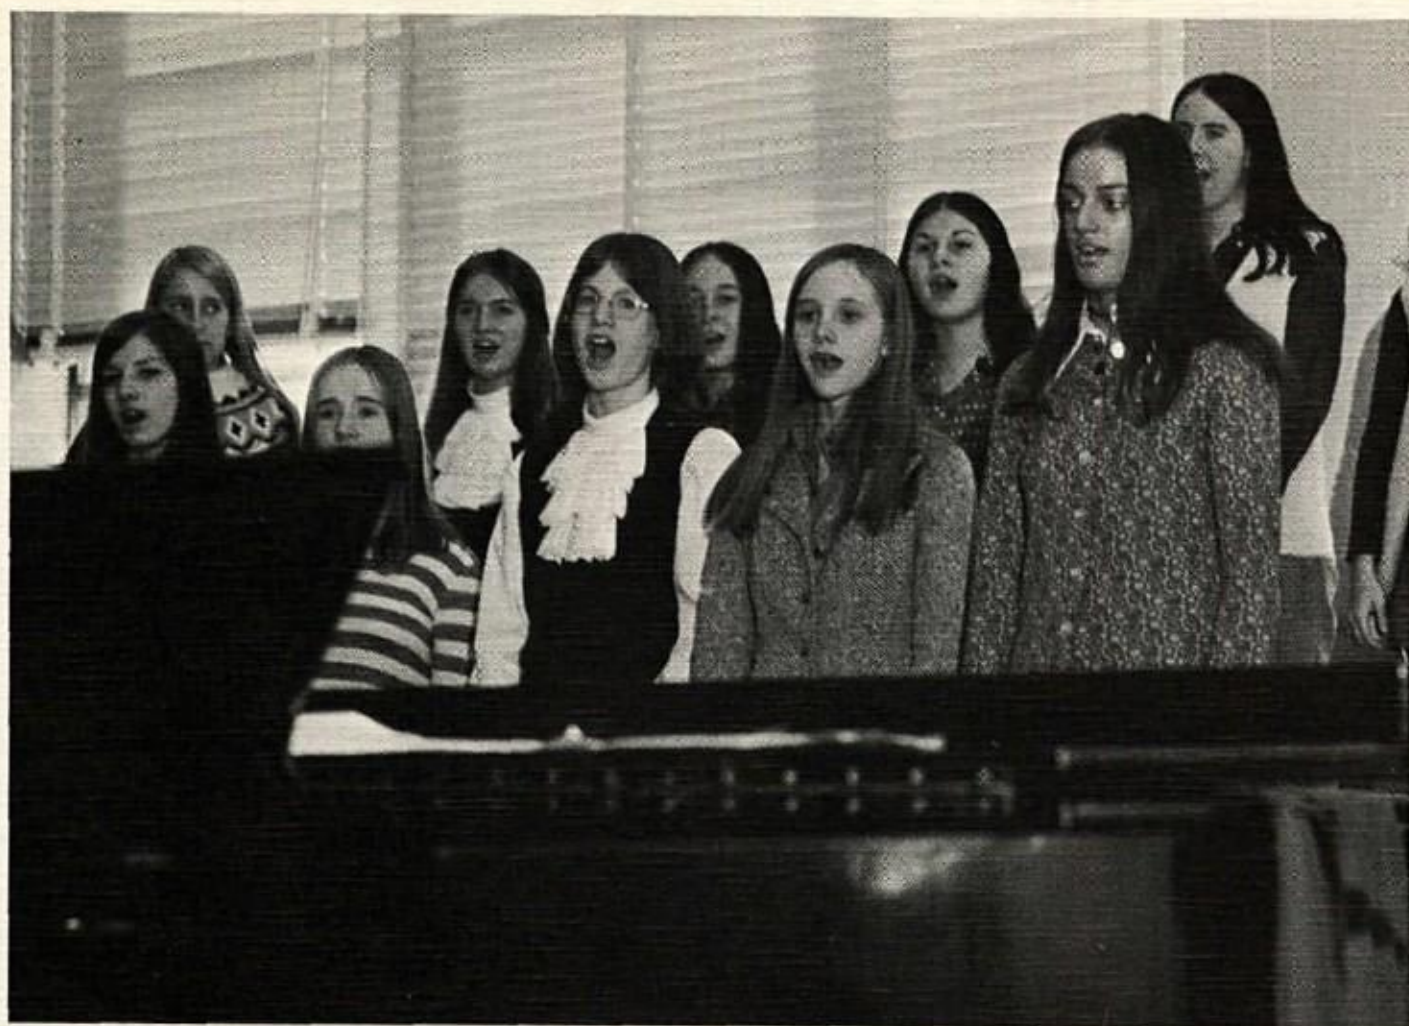

The choral department was involved in numerous activities. Concert choir and the Madrigals recorded a stereo Christmas album in November, and the whole department pitched in to sell 2,000 records during the holiday season. Madrigals also made several caroling appearances in the community, at nursing homes, and on WHSD.

New to the teaching staff this year was Miss LaRose, who aided department head, Mrs. Doris Osmond.

The band and orchestra maintained their usual high standards this year. They displayed their excellence at concerts and competitions.

Another facet of the fine arts allowed the students to express their creativity. Mr. David Ard, head of the art department, designed furniture for a new room, located across the hall. Another addition to the department was a ceramics course. Previously established courses were expanded to include macramé and needlework.

Practical Arts dept. prepares students for future

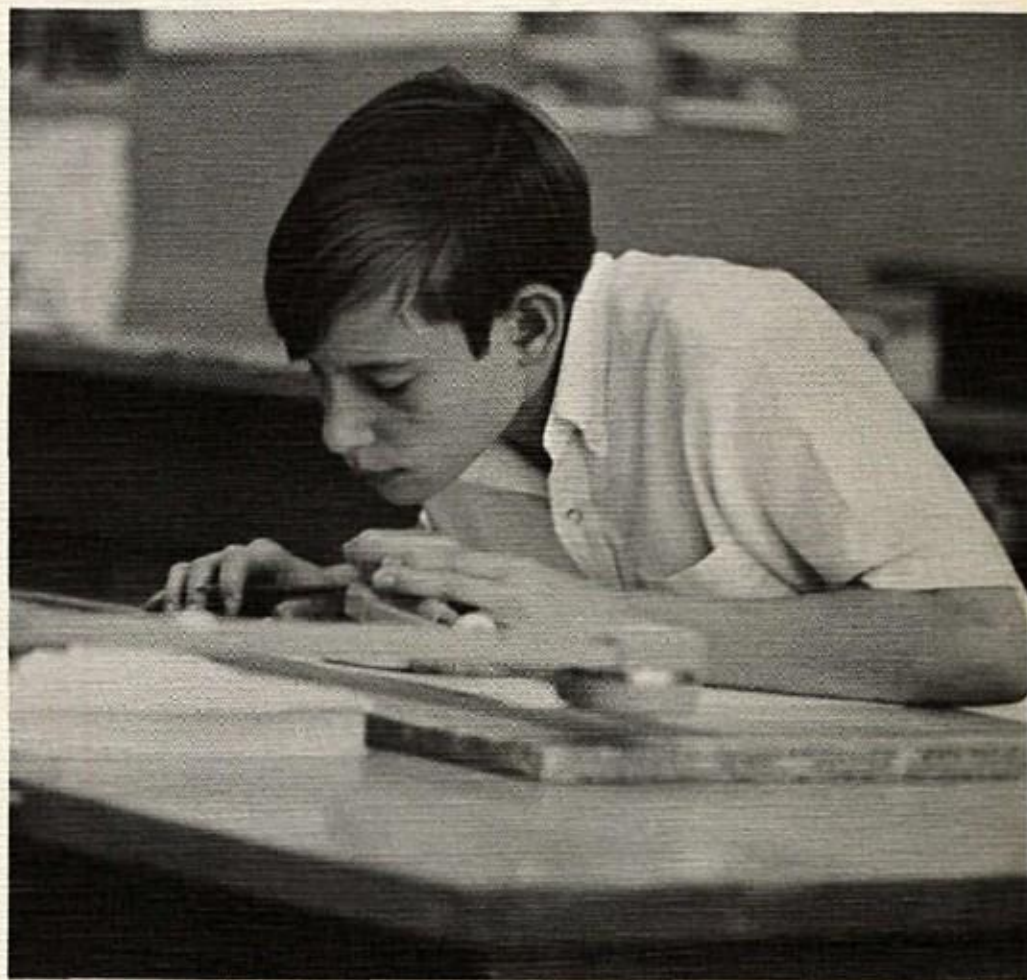

Beware! Driver's Ed car in motion.

The Business Department, under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Dorway, had a number of additions in the past year. Many of these additions were in the form of new machines, which lead to a Business Machines course for interested students to study and operate various duplicators and stencil cutters as preparation for business occupations. Cassette tapes and headsets were installed for shorthand dictation, and new IBM electric typewriters provided invaluable preparation for college or the business world. A course called COE, or Cooperative office Education, was introduced to enable seniors to attend school in the morning and work in the afternoon for practical training at business occupations.

New areas of study offered by English department

Due to the interest shown in contemporary fields, two new courses, Creative Writing and Mass Communications, were added to the English department, directed by W. Winston Young. Fulfilling individual needs were the Junior facet courses. The four week mini-courses were in the specific areas of Dramatics, Grammar, Reading for Comprehension, and The Research Paper. Seniors had large group discussions in which original student-written plays were produced and performed. Several Senior honor students had articles published in local papers, and senior Leslie Capek was presented with a 1972 National Council Teachers of English Achievement Award.

Language department says "¡Si!" to team teaching

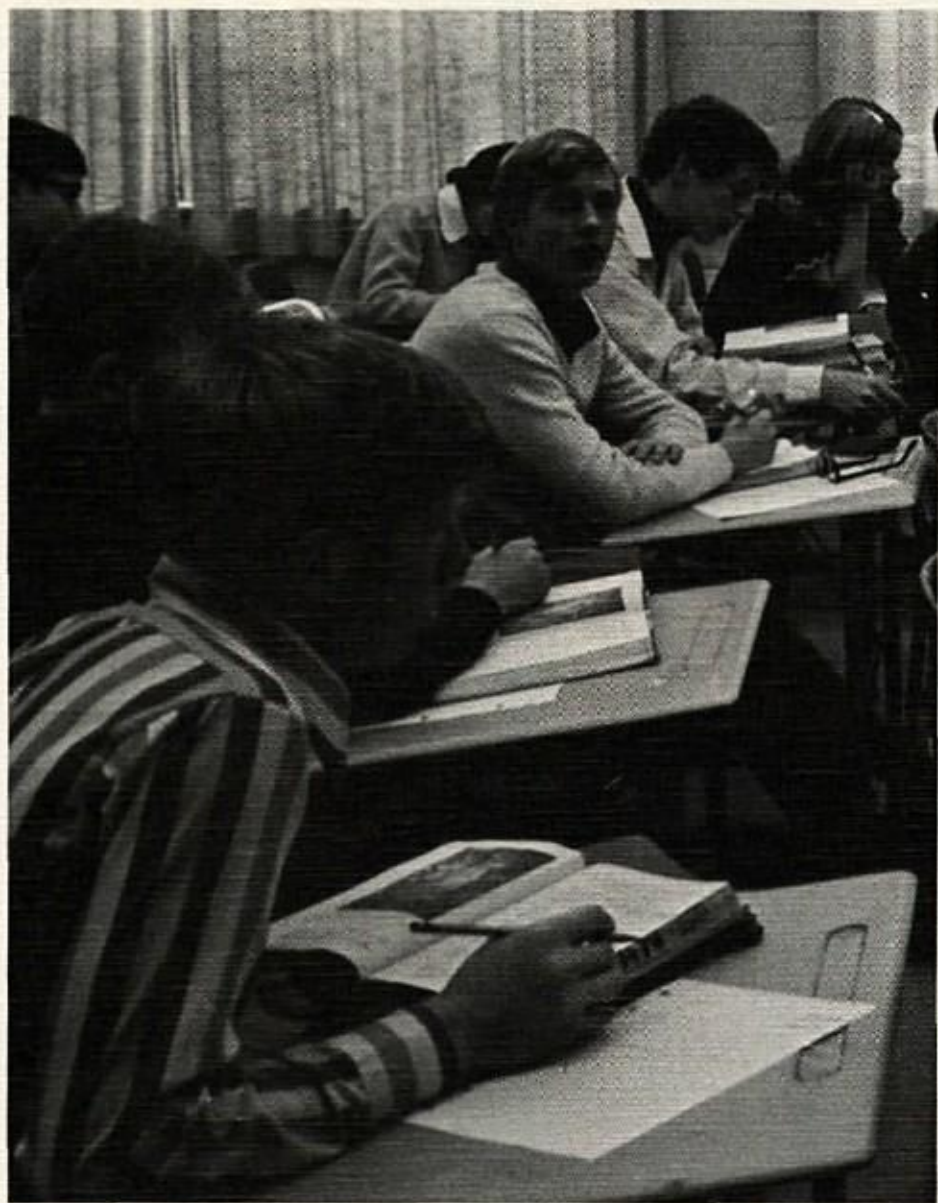

The foreign language department, headed by Mr. Pierre Simonian, offered French, German, Latin, Russian, and Spanish to HT students. This year, team teaching was introduced in instructing Spanish 1 classes. Available to all languages was the resource center, which provided tapes and books. Welcomed to the department were Senor Rodolfo Roca, who returned from a sabbatical leave, and Miss Winifred Lamons, a new Russian teacher.

Curriculum changes help social studies department

The Social Science department continued to move in the direction of curriculum improvements this year. Team teaching returned to World History, allowing three teachers to work as a unit in several classes. Harlow Gaylord, Charles Meyers, and John Maher cooperated in this program.

Also new this year was self-evaluation in Psychology and Sociology. Students had the opportunity to evaluate what they learned and give themselves a grade. This program, initiated by Harrison Bull and Gary Charneia, will probably move to other courses in the future.

Robert Hilsabeck, as head of the department, continued to be very receptive to new ideas in order to keep his courses and teaching methods relevant to the needs of students.

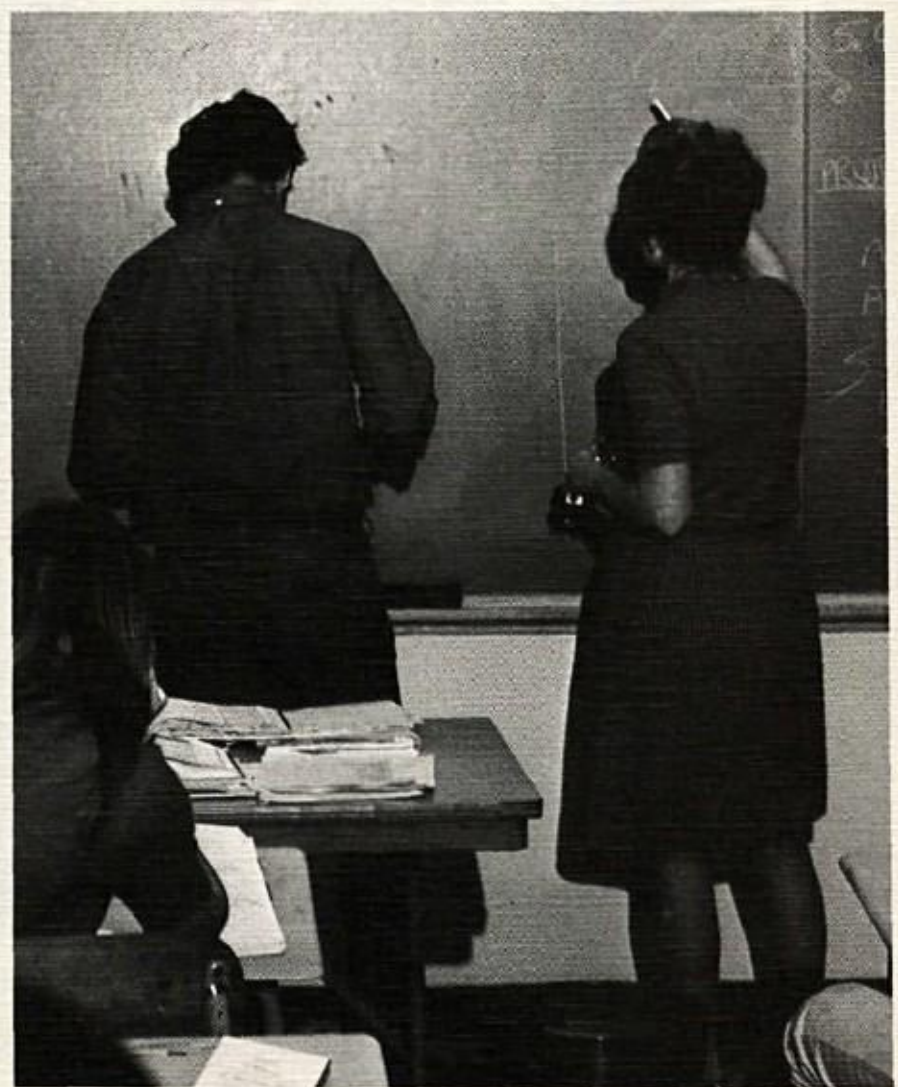

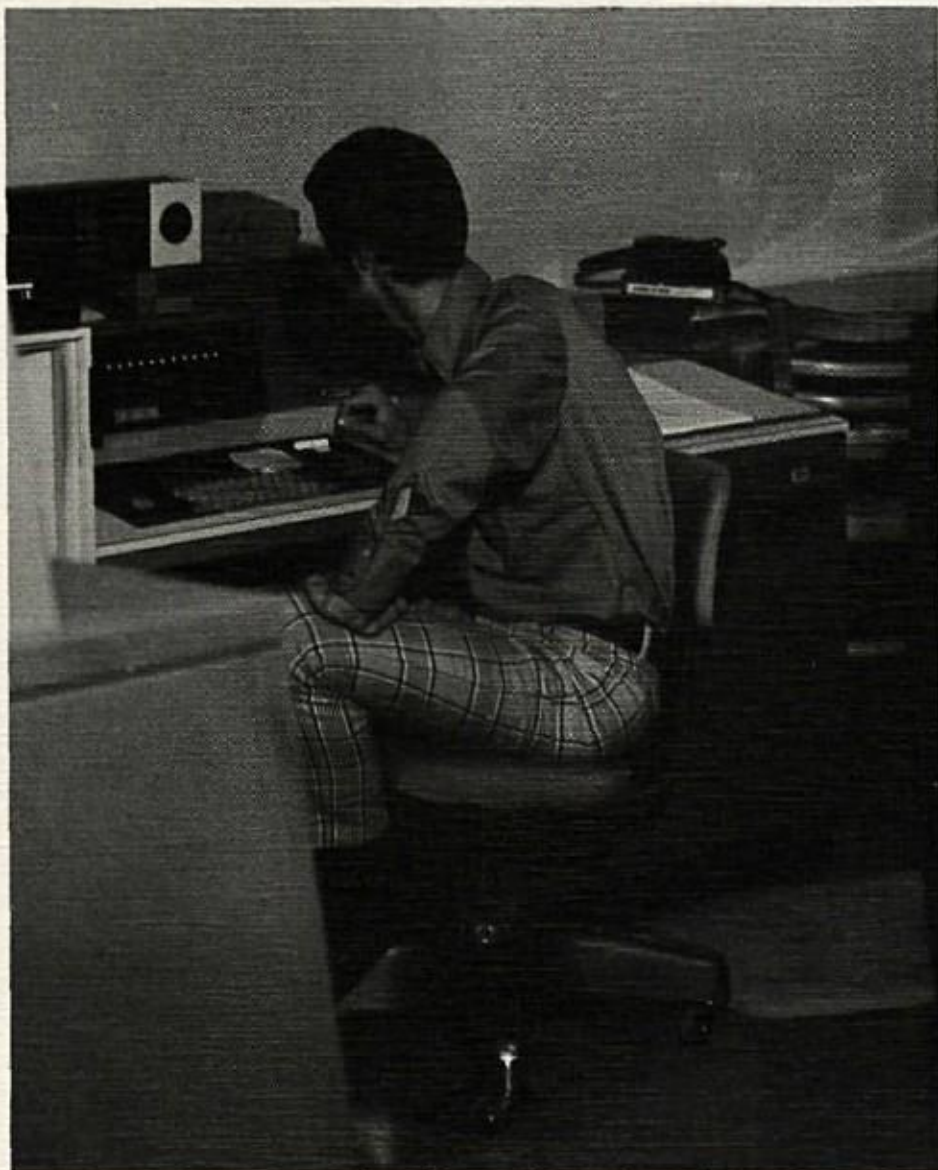

Central's math department changes with the times

This year the mathematics department, headed by Mr. Karl Randall, moved toward a more individualized program of study. Students in Algebra I Honors were put on a system which completely bypassed the typical teacher-class relationship. Each student was responsible for the text material and successfully completing a test at the end of every 20 units. This enabled the students to move at their own rates and seek individual teacher help when it was needed. The program was one of HT's first in the current trend towards independent study.

A second step initiated this year was a tutoring service offering help from advanced math students.

Natural Science: HT's how and why department

The Science Department enlarged its curriculum this year with the addition of two new semester courses—Geology and Oceanography, and Meteorology and Astronomy. The courses were designed to give students electives in science, and let interested students study in depth. Miss Linda Hurt, who was a student teacher at HT last year, joined the department faculty headed by Mr. Richard Barnes.

SEVENTY FIVE

Off to a good start this year was the Freshman class. Despite the sparse turnout at many of their classboard meetings, (often too few even to vote), the class spirit showed through. With a group effort, the Freshmen merited a third place in Homecoming float competition, a third place in Christmas hall decorations, and a second place in pep week festivities. They attributed their fourth place standing in pep-week hall decorations to a near complete lack of funds. This, despite their successful "sucker" sale in which they doubled their investments. According to freshman class president, Jim Schumar, the class of 75 has high hopes for next year. Representing his fellow classmates, Jim stated, "Next year we're planning on beating the class of 73."

SEVENTY FOUR

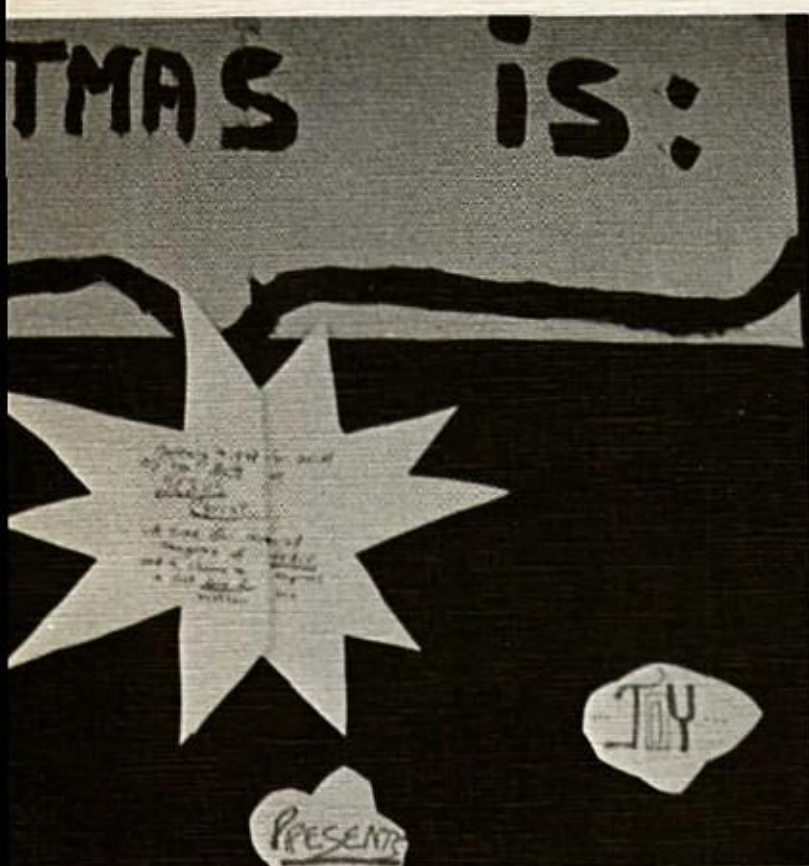

As described by their class board, the sophomores were "basically a good class . . . They just have to get together." In an effort to gain communication with neighboring schools, the sophomore class board met with area class boards at Lyons Township High School. There they discussed commonly shared problems, among these being money-making techniques and results. Among the sophomore's successful fund raising efforts were a pre-Christmas Gingerbread-man sale and numerous bake sales.

In the Christmas Hall Decoration competition, the Sophomores earned a second place rating.

With marked longingness, the members of the sophomore class board all agreed that beating the Junior class was their impossible dream.

SEVENTY THREE

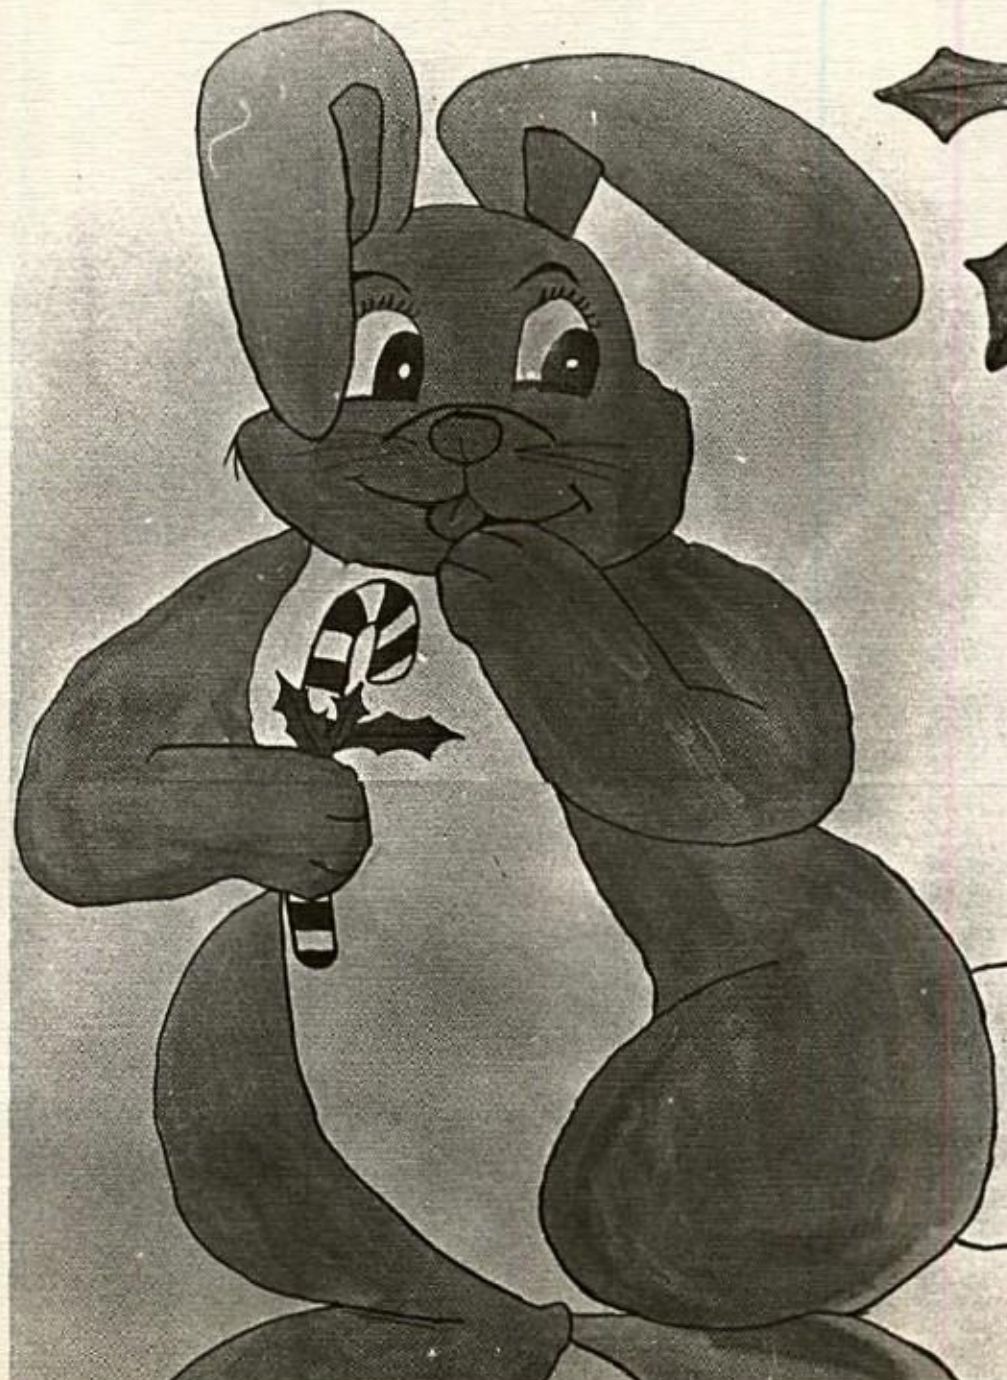

The junior class rolled up three more victories in winning their second "Triple Crown" in two years. Many said it couldn't be done, but the high spirited class was out to prove them wrong.

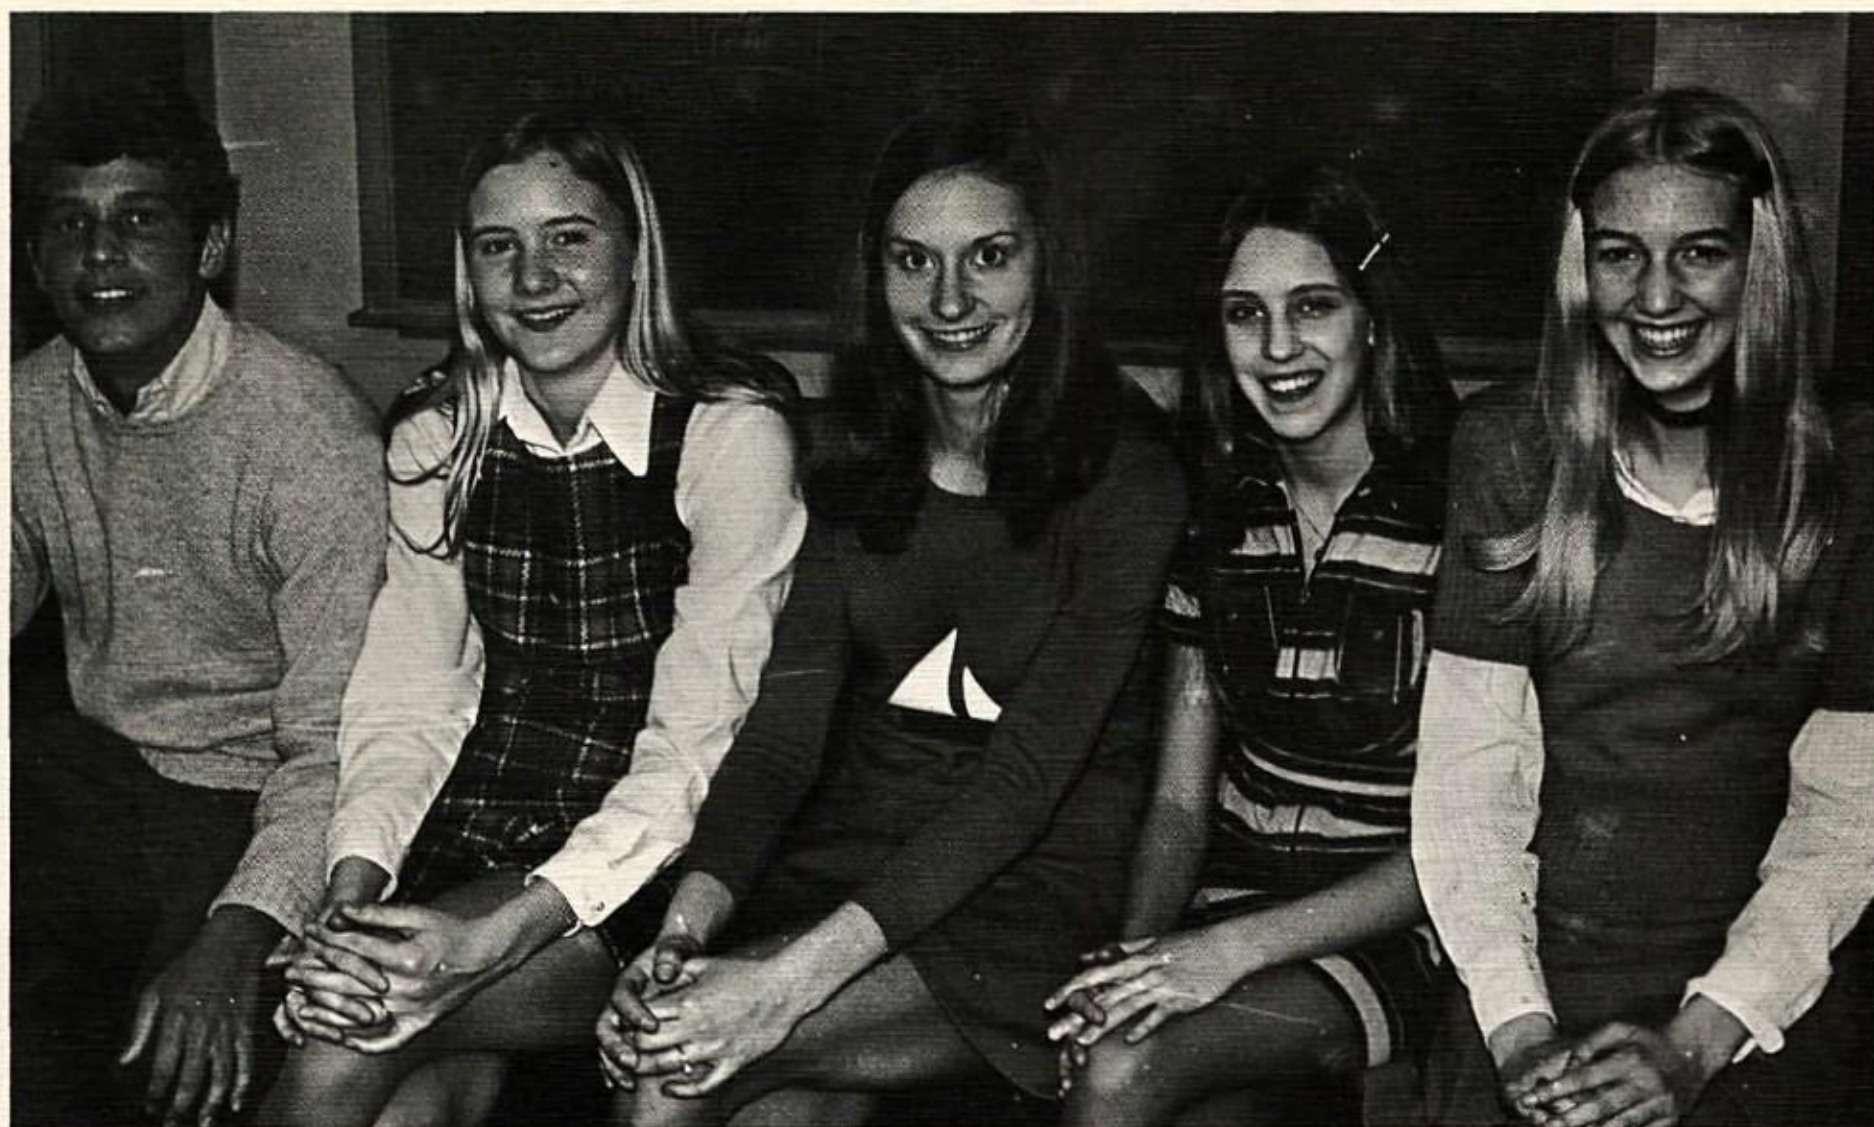

The class of 1973 spent three weeks during the summer painting the football bleachers red and white. The junior float won easily with the theme of "Something's Burnin'." The much publicized Christmas Hall was in some people's words, "The greatest thing ever to happen at HT." These decorations were put in the children's ward at the Sanitarium over vacation.

The final and most impressive victory came during Pep Week when the juniors rolled on in winning six events. Their idea of "A Basketball Odyssey" was by far the most original idea in the past few years.

SEVENTY TWO

This year there was a definite increase in attendance at Senior Class Board, most probably due to the privilege of holding meetings during the school day. But homeroom was infrequent so communication was difficult.

All projects aimed towards Prom, since its existence was questionable at the beginning of the year. In place of the traditional Pancake Day a Spaghetti Dinner was held on Dad's Day.

Class determination, spirit, and effort produced a Homecoming float, "Little Bit A Sole". Christmas hall decorations were good enough to earn fourth place, but Pep Week inspired an all-out effort.

Christmas Wrapping paper sales yielded a profit of about $1,300 and financed the prom at Lexington house.

El Diablo* staff survives strain of five deadlines

The question: How is it possible to capture the spirit of the year on 280 pages, in six months, with 20 mostly-inexperienced staffers? Our answer: by learning the technicalities of our jobs, then putting our knowledge to use. Around our monthly deadlines, Room 246 became our second home as we gave up homework, personal projects, and sleep in effort to finish on time. Common complaints: "I can't think of a caption!" "I don't know how to type!" "There's not any food left!" We soon found that a sense of humor made our mistakes more bearable. True, we acted insanely at times, but then, all of us are entitled to our eccentricities.

Despite all of our problems, we managed to produce a yearbook and enjoy ourselves while we did it, El Diablo '72 expresses the mixed moods of the year.

Special thanks to Walsworth Publishing- Mr. R. Moorhead, Representative Durand Cover Company

To John,

Well, I'm glad this year is over!

I'm glad you had Mr. Maher too, thanks for all the help in History, Earth Science, and Geometry.

In a couple of ^{3 ways:} Good luck next year, and in a sense,

Have a great summer!

Take care,

Jodi

So as the sun sets, are we ushered through the threshold to our future while others come to fill our places in the realm of widening opportunities and advanced experiences.

This year in geometry was really something else. - Never forget the Nudie animals, and Nudie Giltner, or Kram Gody. Good luck in everything you do.

Nudie Konstadt
